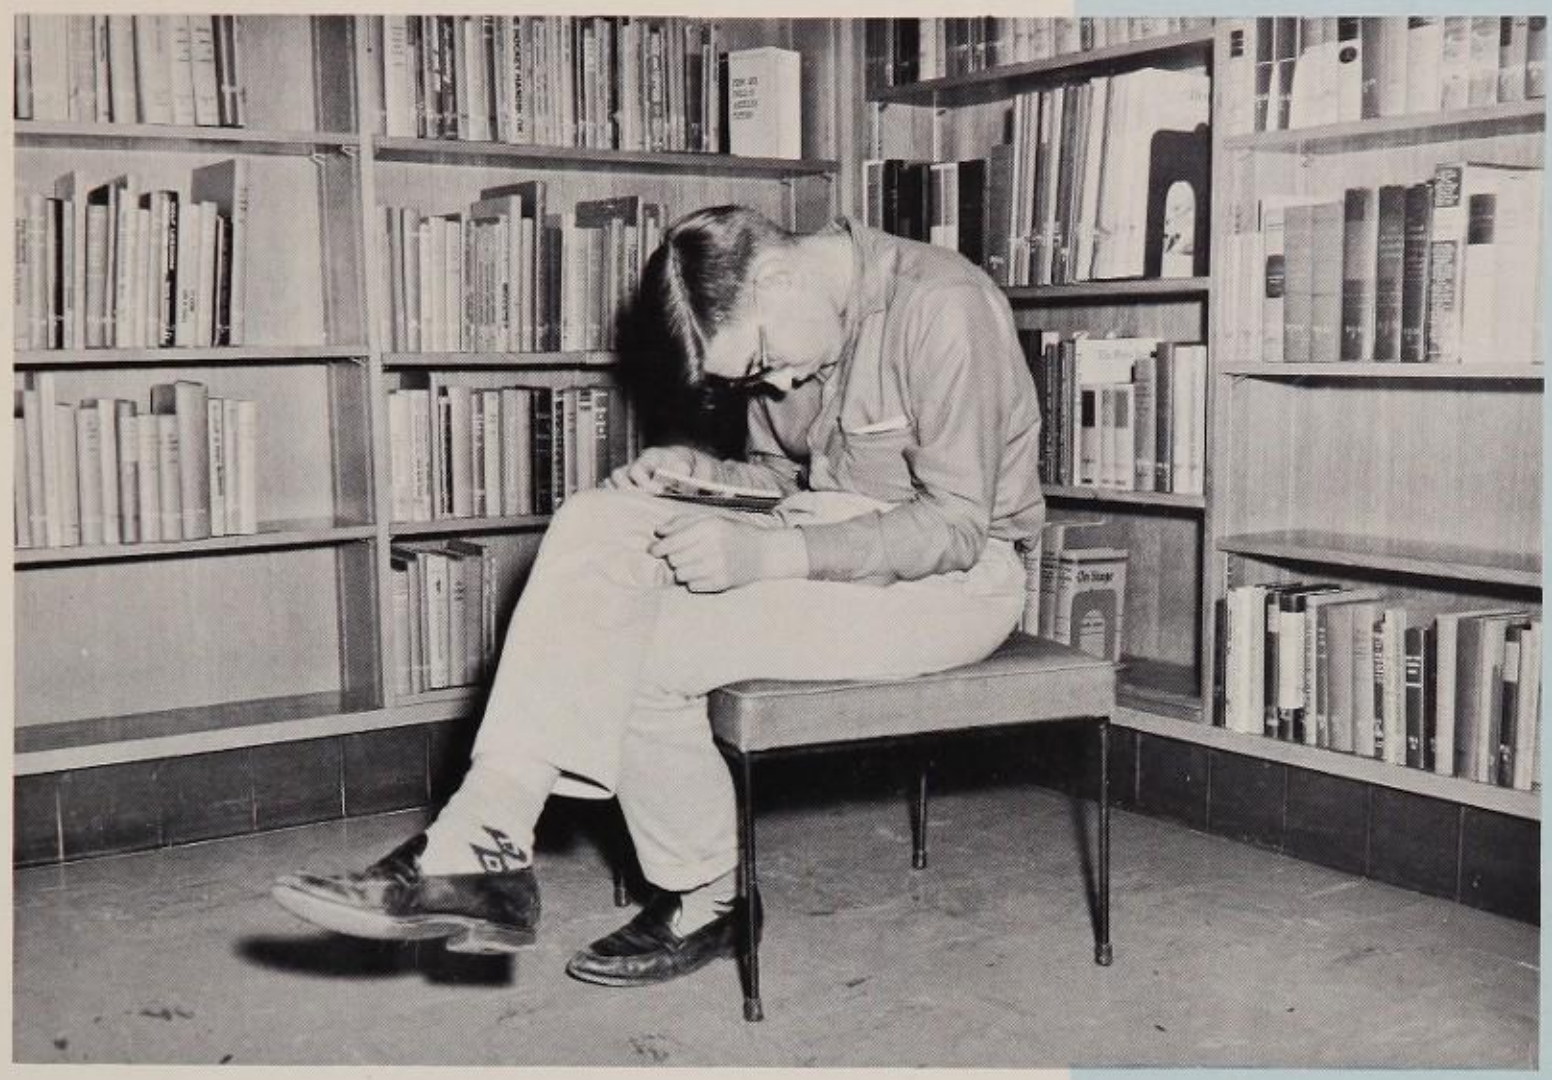
Student Life 168

Life is a never ending procession of people and events, each dependent on the other to form an impression that is never forgotten. The thousands of events and people are in constant motion, and, in the mind's eye, soon begin to exert themselves as a vague but vibrating haze of color, mood, and form. To the painter, our school might be a series of sparkling dabs against a translucent blue sky with fleecy white clouds. From a second-floor window, in late afternoon, he would see violet shadows on the sunny yellow highway.



To the student, as to the painter, a school is an impression. As the impression unfolds and develops, it reveals an abstract picture — happy, sad, intense, thoughtful, serene, familiar, or completely hidden in its infinite meaning. It is how you make of it. Each stroke tells a story. Each story contributes to the whole, whose true identity is a living high school — Alexander Ramsey.

MR. EMMETT WILLIAMS
Superintendent of Schools

Each day life continues at Ramsey in a neat orderly manner with no questions asked about why it happens to be that way. The Administration and school board have the never-ending job of pleasing this year's record number of students who move in every direction immaginable.

Last spring, district #623 saw Mr. Williams promoted to Doctor Williams.

The school board, with its new member, Mrs. Jordan, strive not only to make our school great but the "greatest". There is evidence of their accomplishments all over Ramsey, not only the new biology equipment but the modern art rooms completed this fall.

For ten years Mr. Johnson has been haunted with students suffering from such things as "ego breakdowns" and "broken hearts." However, this year Mr. Ireland shares in the frustrations as our new assistant principal. In a sense the administration is made up of "academic doctors" for they not only claim a diagnosis, but also a prognosis and it's a rare occasion that the patient isn't cured.

THE FUTURE

BOARD OF EDUCATION: (standing) Mr. Emmett Williams, Superintendent of Schools; Mr. Robert Carr, trustee; Mr. Paul Borg, budget administrator; Mr. George E. Seaborg, treasurer; Mr. Morris E. Nicholson, trustee; (sitting) Mr. Herbert L. Ostergren, chairman; Mrs. Robert Jordan, clerk; Mrs. Violet Bedbury, trustee; Miss Marjorie M. Hamlin, administrative assistant.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT CHAIRMAN
Mr. Roy Stultz

Through Ramsey's halls each day tread hundreds of detectives. They are searching for answers, the type of which depends upon the "class" of detective they are. These detectives are commonly called math students whose searches, conclusions, and further searches, continue throughout their math year. The unknown x leads Algebra students on a confusing chase. Pi and his accomplise radius-squared leads the geometry student up blind alleys and extraneous roots often lead him to a dead end before the detective can find his way through the maze of numbers, letters and symbols.

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT: Mr. Duane Skie, football, Mrs. Eide, Mr. Milo Gaul, football, wrestling.

NUMBER

Tools of the trade.

It would probably take a "Hawiian Eye" to investigate logrithms, inequalities and the "functions mole"; tangent, sine and cosine as effectively as the advanced math student, a detective who is studying to become a college-level investigator.

There is also the breed of half-year detectives who only work on statistics during the fall-winter or winter-spring season. Although these detectives track down the same criminals each year, they multiply during the summer and are always ready the next year to lead math students on a merry chase.

MATHEMATIC DEPARTMENT:
Mr. William Cossette, hockey

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT: Mr. Duane Nelson, basketball, football, tennis, Mr. Eldon Eddy, Mr. Robert Emahiser.

PLEASE

"It's obviously very simple."

Mr. Gibbs discusses experimental observations made by one of his students.

The powers of science students for accomplishing the near but never impossible was demonstrated last spring when Ramsey students won 13 1st place awards at the seven-state regional fair.

This year, 525 students find themselves witnesses to the new evolution in the biology labs. The new equipment installed throughout the summer and early fall, has become the spark to inspire scientific curiosity.

Rooms 230 and 231 are inhabited 12 hours a day with the eager chemistry student. At times, too eager, for some of his fondest memories are of the time an experiment "just didn't turn out quite right."

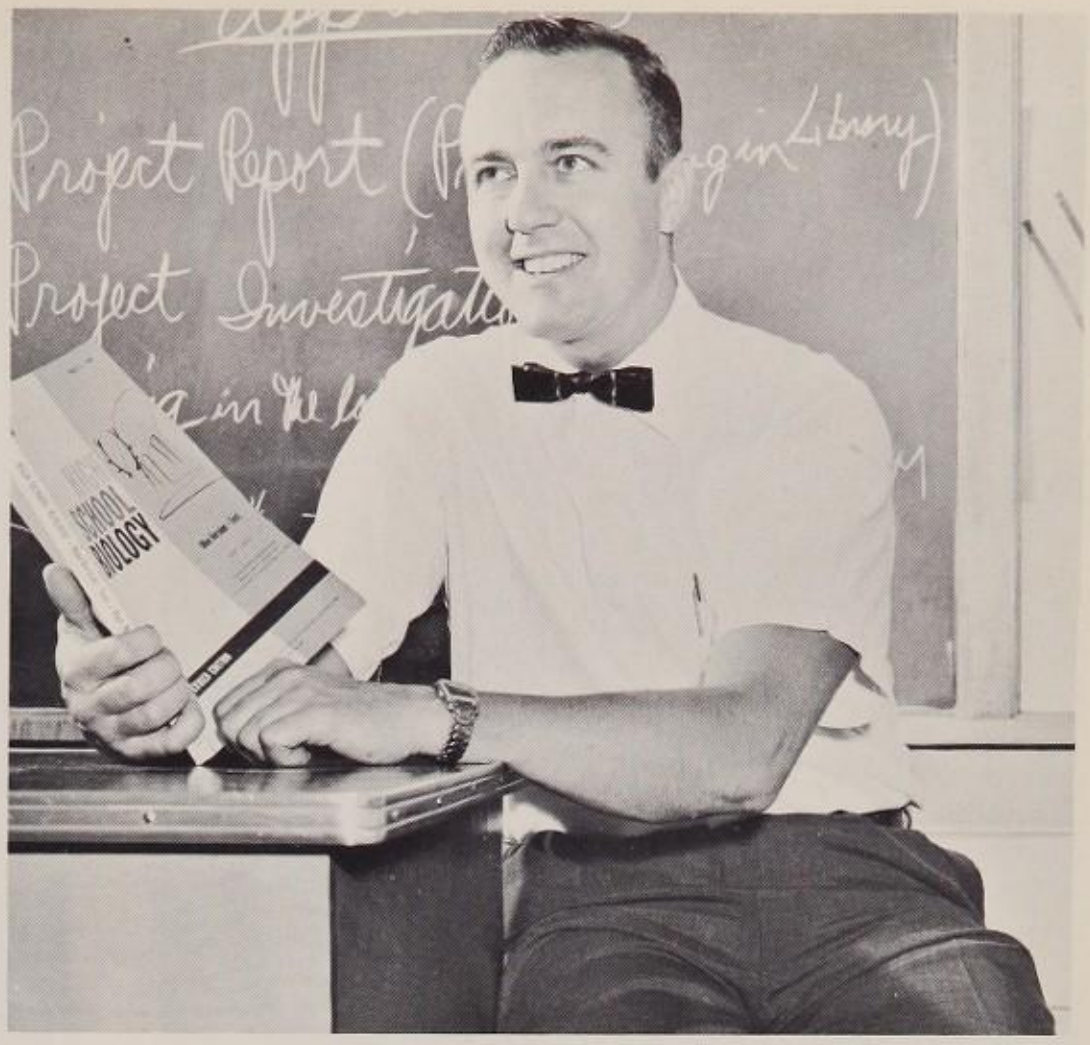
KNOWLEDGE GAINED

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT: Mr. Clyde Skogen, Mr. Denneth Dvergsten, Mr. Robert Tiplady, Mr. Robert Thompson.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT: Mr. Matthew Edman; Mr. Donovan Roelofs, Junior Academy of Science; Mr. James Carlin, baseball, cross country.

Who said physics is the most exact of the sciences? Students compute 4 x 4 on a slide rule and find there's only a 50% chance that the answer is 16. Those who consider the course exceptional can be found devoting any spare moments to outside lab work and research.

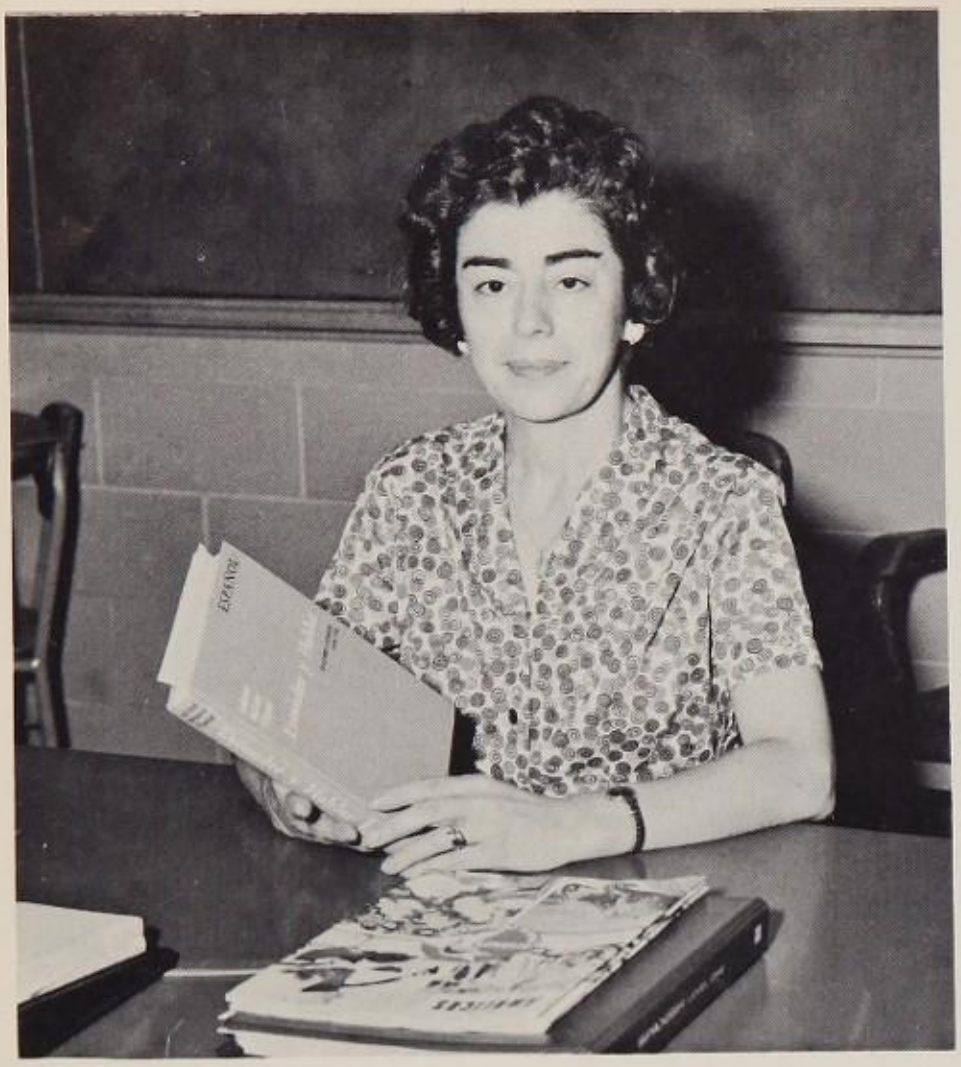
Combining lab work, class lectures, and the experience gained from minor "goofs", the student is bound to become a well-trained and well-balanced individual. With such a background the Ramsey scientist may continue his education and in the future solve new problems and make new discoveries never before encountered.



SCIENCE DEPARTMENT CHAIRMAN: Mr. Ronald Gibbs.

THROUGH EXPERIMENTS

Mr. Thompson performs an experiment while some of interested students look on. Don't spill, Mr. Thompson!



LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT CHAIRMAN: Miss Ellen Di Giam Battista.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT: Mrs. Mary Jo Eide, Mr. Robert Montgomery, Miss Virginia Schubert.

KEYS TO

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT: Mrs. Viola Frenzel, Future Teachers of America.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT: Mrs. Sara Boyd leaves Ramsey at noon to go to Capital View.

When walking down the corridor of B wing, one may be bombarded with any variety of strange sounds flowing through the doors of 140, 142, and 144. If one takes a peek into the interior he may first be a bit shocked at what he finds. Sitting in green poka-dot cages, talking to a perferated metal disc with a 12-inch neck, is a fellow classmate. At this point an informed student walks in, greets you with buenos dias, bonjour, or guten tag and explains the phenomena which you are viewing. It is part of the new trend in foreign language education taking root all over the country. The language student is a busy individual who realizes the difficulty of the course but also its benefits.

English can be one of the most exciting courses and is no longer comprised of only verbs, prepositions, and pronouns. Now creativity and imagination are stressed. The emphasis on writing is one that grows each year. From "little" sophomore to "big" senior, writing heads the list of objectives.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT CHAIRMAN: Mr. Robert Ellis, Fall play, Thespians.

Mr. Oman's gestures are familiar to all those who have taken a speech course from him. Speak a little louder, Cheryl!

A liberally educated Ramseyite should have an accurate knowledge of not only the economic, but the historical and psychological aspects of life. Understanding the present through thinkers and events of the past is stressed in history classes from sophomore to senior year.

World History is open to all students, and as usual, to the dismay of seniors, they are outnumbered by underclassmen not only numerically, but sometimes academically.

World War I is the beginning of modern history, and it continues to the present day. At this point, the class appropriately entitled World Affairs swings into action and analyzes world trouble spots from West Berlin to Aldrich Arena during a Ramsey — Mounds View hockey game.

Senior Social Studies and Teacher Orientation, whose aim is to deepen the understanding of economics, are at first faced with trying to make the student see that there is more to money than spending it. By the end of the year, through the help of competent advisors, everything is understood, and those in T.O. are promoted from student to teacher.

SPEECH DEPARTMENT: Mr. Norbert Robertson, cross country, swimming; Mr. Gene Piche, chairman, debate, speech contest; Mr. C. Jack Oman, spring play.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT: Mr. Gordon Genz, hockey; Mr. Scott; Mrs. Gladys Colwell; Mrs. Leslie Meyer.
RIGHT: SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT CHAIRMAN: Mrs. Arienne Bone.

PAST WITH PRESENT

The key word to American Studies is challenge. Deviating from the norm, students are offered a better understanding of the cultural aspects of America. American Studies students become proficient in many areas — from writing critical essays to selling tickets for the Junior Class Play. These experiences transform many "just students" into ardent scholars.

Psychology is the study of the behavior of animals and human beings, and what could be more exciting than watching people tick? One method of teaching this course is by natural observation, namely field trips. In contrast to most, they have a very real emotional effect on students. Trips to such places as the Cambridge Mental Hospital have for the second year promoted Christmas drives for clothing and toys.

Speech and Forensics are classes where self-consciousness is quickly shattered, and the student's vocabulary increases with the understanding of many scholarly sounding phrases. In addition, the student becomes more organized — partly because of his recipe box and note cards.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT: Mr. Michael Noesen, activity program coordinator; Miss Andrea Hanratty; Mr. Joseph Odanovich, basketball; Mr. Orville Peterson; Miss Carol Schwarz.

PRACTICAL

ART DEPARTMENT: Mr. Robert Even, Mrs. Marilyn Brockmeier, and Miss Leah-Marie Ohnstad enjoy their new art department.

While traveling through the halls adjoining the new art rooms, all of the senses seem to reach a peak. As one approaches Room 116, the aroma of hot peanut butter cookies saturates the air. Continuing down the corridor, one hears the slamming of vices and the buzzing of sewing machines.

Adding to everyone's confusion at the beginning of this year were Rooms 121 and 122. It was soon evident that, although the noise indicated a machine shop, the rooms were really to be used for "peaceful" oil painting, sketching, printing, or the like. This addition is a vast improvement, especially when one remembers how art students were always turning up in class with a bright orange nose as a result of turning around too fast.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT CHAIRMAN: Mrs. Margaret Proshek, Future Homemakers of America.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT: Miss Marilyn Peterson, Future Homemakers of America; Miss Marilyn Bersie, Future Homemakers of America.

AND FINE ARTS

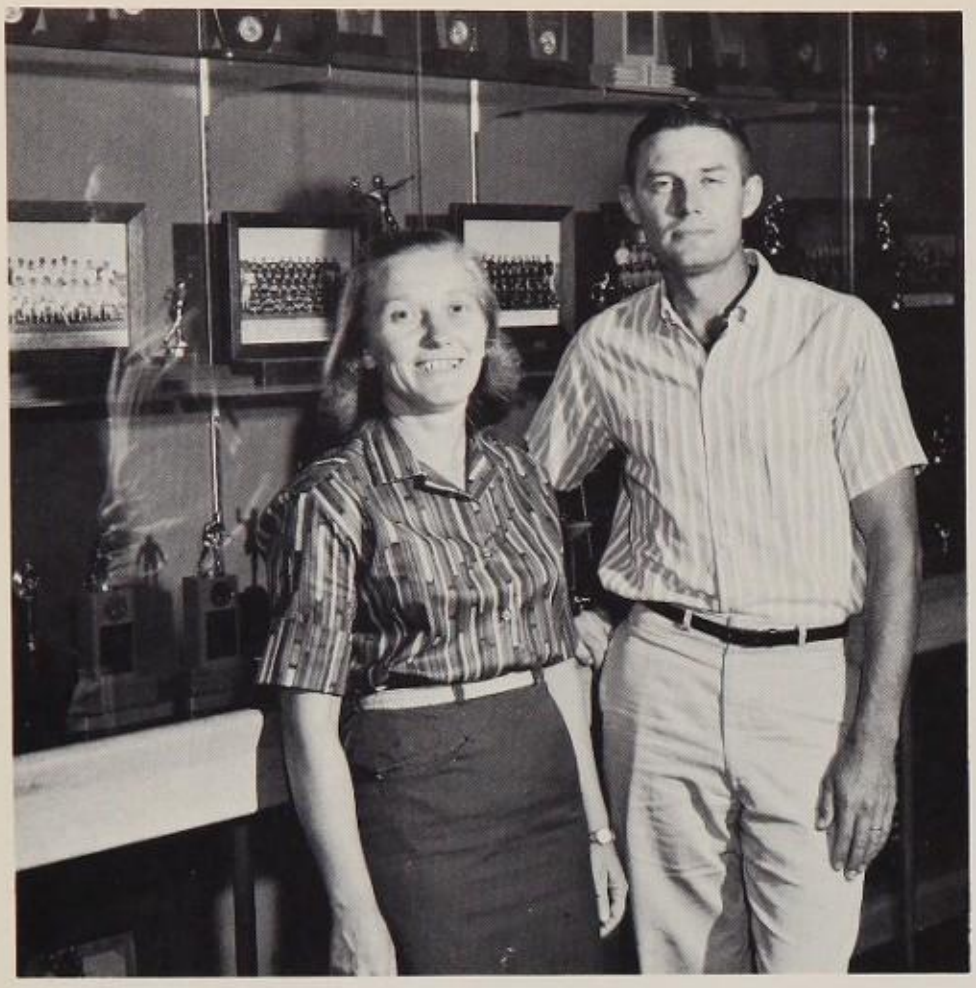
INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT CHAIRMAN: Mr. Raymond King, golf.

Ramsey's industrial art department has always been considered the "boys' area," but this year there have been more courageous girls than ever before signing up for electricity, printing, and drawing shops. Last year, everything from a high-fi set to a small outboard racer to a judge's gavel reflected the efforts of the shop classes.

Home economics is as much the "girls' area" as industrial arts is the "boys' area". Although girls are found in shop classes, the barrier between the two "areas" has not been broken. It seems that as yet, no boys have had enough courage to face an oven or the twenty girls who will show him how to use the complex instrument. Any girl can teach herself to cook and sew, but in home economics she learns how to perform these duties the easiest, fastest, and most economical way.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT: Mr. Neil Houtcooper; Mr. Richard Shira.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS DEPARTMENT: Mr. Russell Amling; Mr. Raymond Yantes, baseball, football, wrestling; Mr. Roger Syvertsen, stage crew.

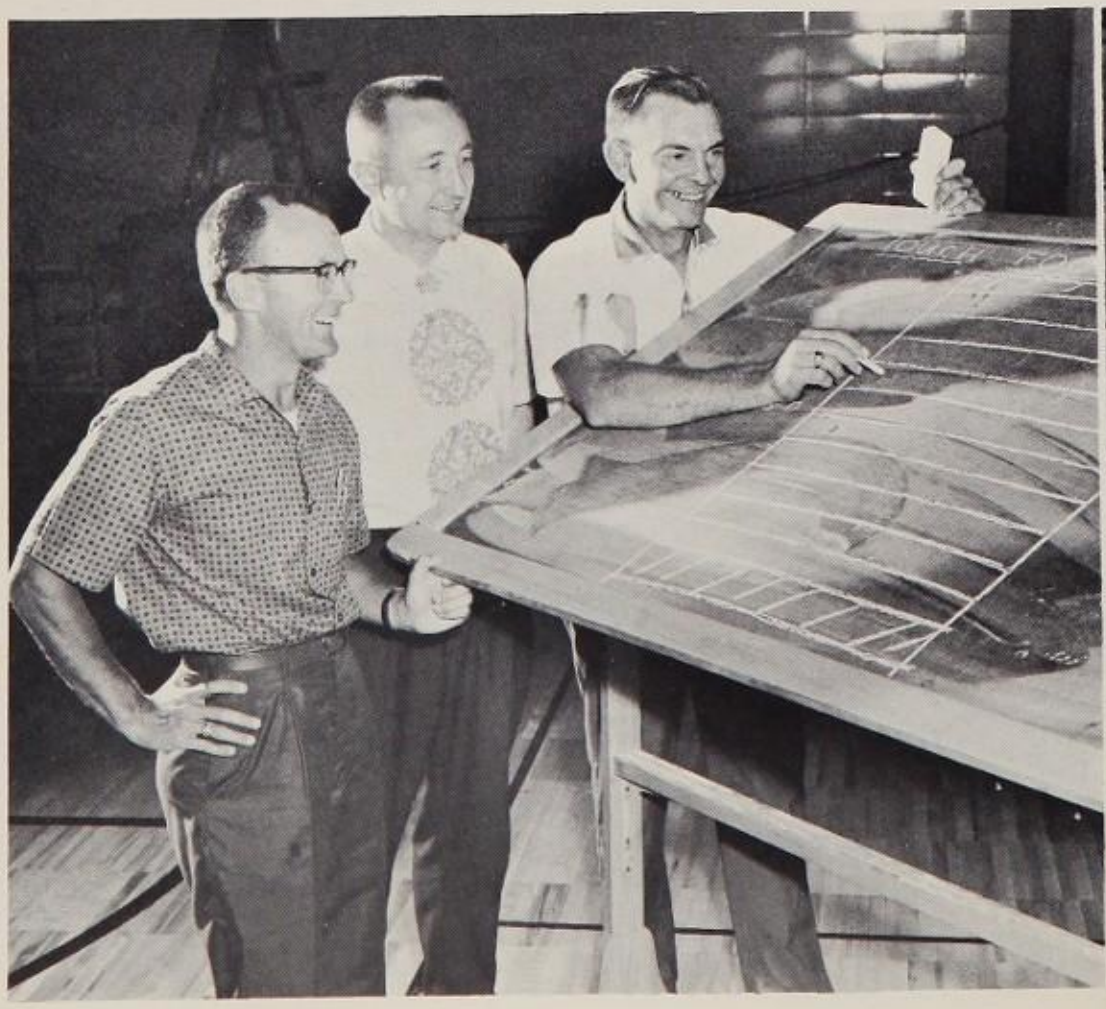


PHYSICAL EDUCATION CHAIRMEN: Miss Willetta Brown, G.A.A., cheerleading; Mr. Paul Busch, cross country, wrestling.

A blow of a whistle and you are ordered to get on the line and call out your last name. If you think this is the Army you are wrong, it's only our Phy. Ed. department's roll call. Although at the beginning of the year you may be shocked at how "unfit" you are, phy. ed. quickly improves your coordination, fitness and sportsmanship. The sophomores are not only drilled physically but mentally as they alternate between phy. ed. and health. The devoted upper-classmen make up the advanced phy. ed. ranks.

PHYSICAL AND

PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: Mr. Kenneth Bergstedt, football, tennis, wrestling; Mr. John Goedeke, gymnastics; Mr. Lars Overski, football.



PHYSICAL EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: Miss Mary Farrier, G.A.A., Miss Ruth Engelbritson, G.A.A.

Have you ever wondered who the students are behind you merrily belting-out a song from the "Music Man", "West Side Story", or "Oklahoma", or tooting away on a french horn or flute? Most likely it is a group of band, choir, or glee club members. The students must be cheerful, patient and devoted so they can take criticism as well as praise. Our concerts, hall-caroling, and half-time shows are as much a tradition for Ramsey as they are for the music department.

CREATIVE OUTLETS

MUSIC DEPARTMENT: Mr. James Peterson, Ensembles, Orchestra, Mr. Charles Erickson, Chairman, Band, Ensembles.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT:
Mr. Donald Brost, Choir, Glee Club

LIBRARIANS: Miss Naomi Hokanson, National Honor Society; Mrs. Esther Holste.

AUDIO-VISUAL DEPARTMENT: Mr. Casper Hanson, Projectionist Club.

PHASES OF

DRIVER EDUCATION DEPARTMENT: Mr. Robert Ellis, Fall Play, Thespians; Mr. Daniel Davis.

Few of us could remain composed if we were Ramsey's "librarian for a day." We would hear endless complaints from students who can't find books, who lost their passes, or who need the conference room. While trying to solve these complaints simultaneously, the static uproar increases and students leaving run into coffee-cup-carrying teachers entering. Could you compare to the three wonderful librarians we have?

Concerned with our safety, Mr. Davis and Mr. Ellis are probably the two most courageous men in Ramsey. Recalling the problems you had learning how to drive, you can easily sympathize with the instructors and their well-molded products.

GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT: Miss Claire Warweg; Mr. David Wilson; Mrs. Frances Norgaard; Mr. Arthur Thomas, American Field Service; Mr. August Haugen.

EDUCATION

Guidance is, in all probability, the busiest of any department at Ramsey. The choice of a future occupation is one problem that never ceases to haunt the student. The counselors efficiently solve the puzzle for it seems that they know more about the student than the student knows about himself. Don't be deceived, however, those objects on their desks aren't "paper weights," but actually crystal balls that see past, present and future.

Our nurse, is the one who must decide whether a test or another factor has made a student ill. Besides more serious problems, our "judge" treats our sprained hands and writers' cramps.

The "audio-visual boy", the film critic of our school, is easily recognized as the boy carrying the movie projector and stand up the A wing steps, or the frenzied student groaning as our annual Christmas film breaks for the third time. Because of him, our studies are sometimes punctured with an explosion of color and sound.

NURSE: Miss Shirley Veith, Future Nurses Club.

Tinkling bells on the typewriter carriages, rat-a-tat-tating of punched keys, crumpling of papers and scratching of pens are the characteristic sounds of Ramsey's business section. Lucky business students may be elected to balance their parent's checkbook or make out shopping lists. These "business breeds" are easily recognized as the ones taking reams of notes in shorthand, handing in all their assignments typed or carrying their own adding machines.

The "on-the-job-trainer", the graduate student of the business section, not only gets a credit for his work, but gets paid too. Through his labors at the drug store, bank, shoe shop, grocery or discount house, he learns such things as; "cheerfulness counts" and "the customer is always right."

OFFICE TRAINING

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT: Mr. Curtis Hill, Concessions Manager; Mr. James Lund, Adult Education Coordinator.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT: Mr. James Scott; Miss Jocelyn Neufeldt, Rambler Business Staff Advisor; Miss Margaret Anzevino; Mr. Alfred McAfee, Rambler Editorial Staff Advisor.

Now under construction at Sylvan and County Road B-2 is the new Frank B. Kellogg Senior High School, which, in all probability, will become an arch rival. Planning and building a modern new school is a complex process but one which has to be tackled. The main reason for establishing Kellogg High is one which is aimed at finding a solution to our increasing teen-age population. Schoolboard members were faced with either building a new school or installing stop-and-go lights in all the halls here at Ramsey. Construction was begun, but in reality, they were building a school without a name. In a district-wide contest between fifty-six classrooms, twenty-five dollars was awarded to Fairview Junior High School for submitting the name of Frank B. Kellogg. Mr. Torgelson, who has been our assistant principal for the past five years, will, upon its completion, become the first principal of Kellogg Senior High.

Mr. John Torgelson, future principal of Kellogg High School.

AIDS PROGRESS

We might still be seemingly living in the Dark Ages if it were not for our devoted janitors who dutifully perform their everyday tasks. Our florescent lights would be of no use if they were not installed and replaced by our "ready kilowatts." Their duties are wide and varied ranging from cleaning windows to shoveling snow. Henry Nelson, 81, who retired this year, was fondly thought of here at Ramsey and many of us pictured him as our own personal Santa Claus.

Ramsey's cooks are faced with the ever increasing "family" every year. However an impossible task this may seem, our five cooks efficiently prepare for over 1,700 and manage to induce an international flavor into our food by serving meals from Spanish rice or Polish sausage.

Imagine the confusion and awful consequences if one permanent record found its way into another file. Our efficient secretaries have the job of keeping the files in order as one of their many jobs.

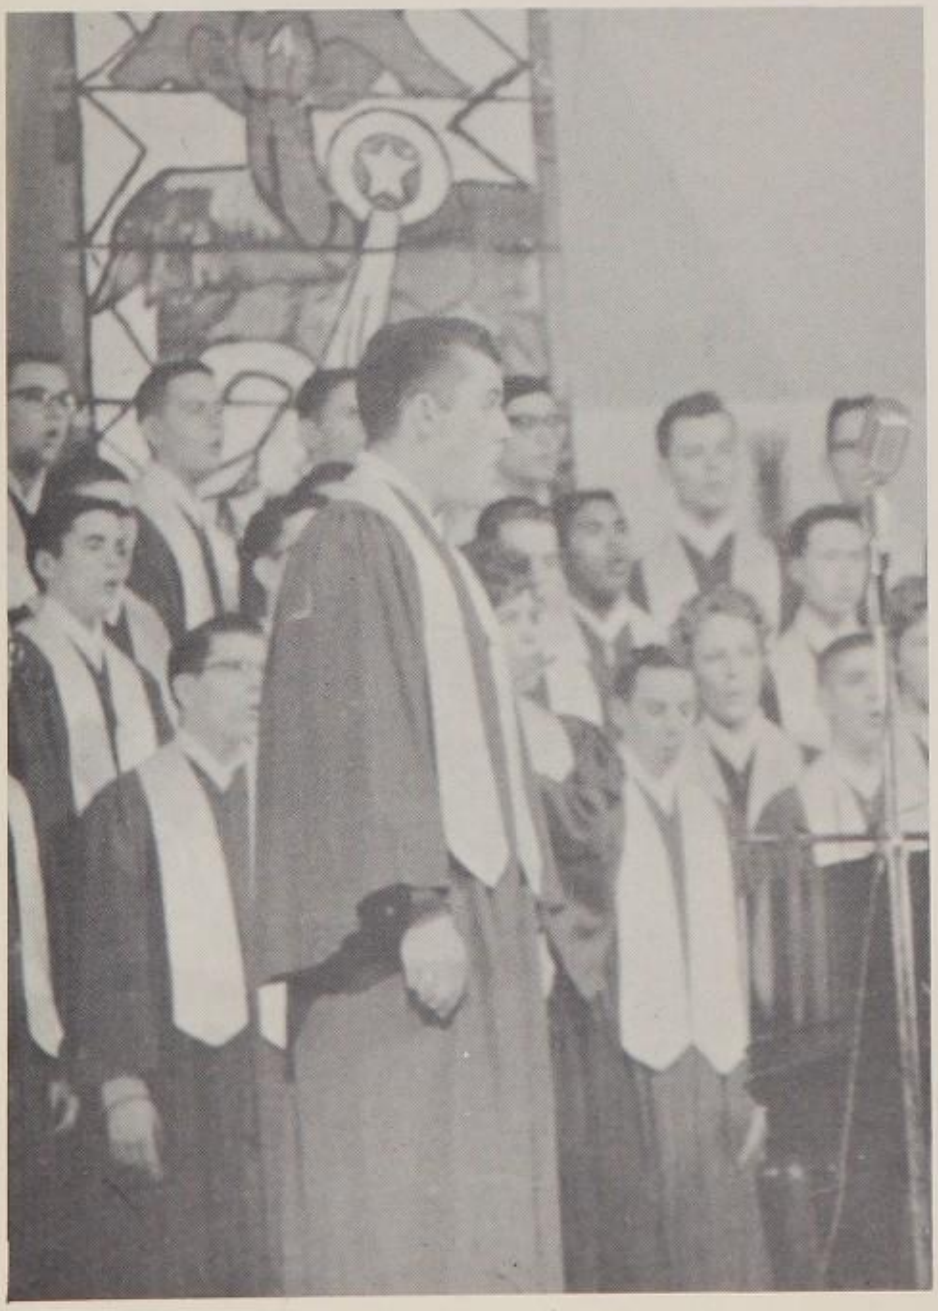
ARDENT SINGERS



Choral music at Ramsey is rapidly becoming immortalized with each successive year. This year Ramsey is celebrating its tenth birthday and already the choir has seven A ratings from district and state contests. Unlike other "teams," the coach, Mr. Brost, directs the choir through a season beginning in September and ending in May. The choir presented music types ranging from the Music Man to Christmas Carols to a Mass, written in Latin.

BLEND IN HARMONY

The listener who didn't make it to the Christmas concert was lucky enough to have three alternatives. This year, the choir also performed the concert at Apache Plaza, Gustavus Adolphus Church and at a student performance. Besides the traditional opening "Wake Awake," the choir performed well-known German, Swedish, French, English and American Christmas Carols. Highlighting months of preparation was the choirs performance of Williams' Mass in G Minor that was heard this spring.

Mr. Brost strikes a familiar pose while he directs the choir.

FOR SINGING

"Hark how the bells, sweet silver bells, all seem to say . . . . . ." that the girl's glee club had another great musical year. Mr. Brost is the only male teacher in the school that can control the voices of 170 girls at one time with only the movement of his hand. The girls' love of singing has been easily illustrated in all the concerts performed this year. The glee club likes the sound of "A" and is on its way to receiving another one in this years state contest.

The glee club was accompanied by members of the band at the Christmas concert.

INDIVIDUAL TALENTS

It's Mr. Erickson at the thirty . . . to the twenty . . . down to the ten . . . and across for a goal as he leads Ramsey's versatile concert band off the field after another halftime show. Patience and hours of rehearsal result in either arousing the Ramsey winning spirit or instilling a deep appreciation of fine music. Concert band members not only play in the band as a whole but every member is also a part of a small ensemble.

UNITE IN HARMONY

A familiar scene at a football game is the band descending to put on their half-time show.

Tramp, tramp, tramp, the band marches on.

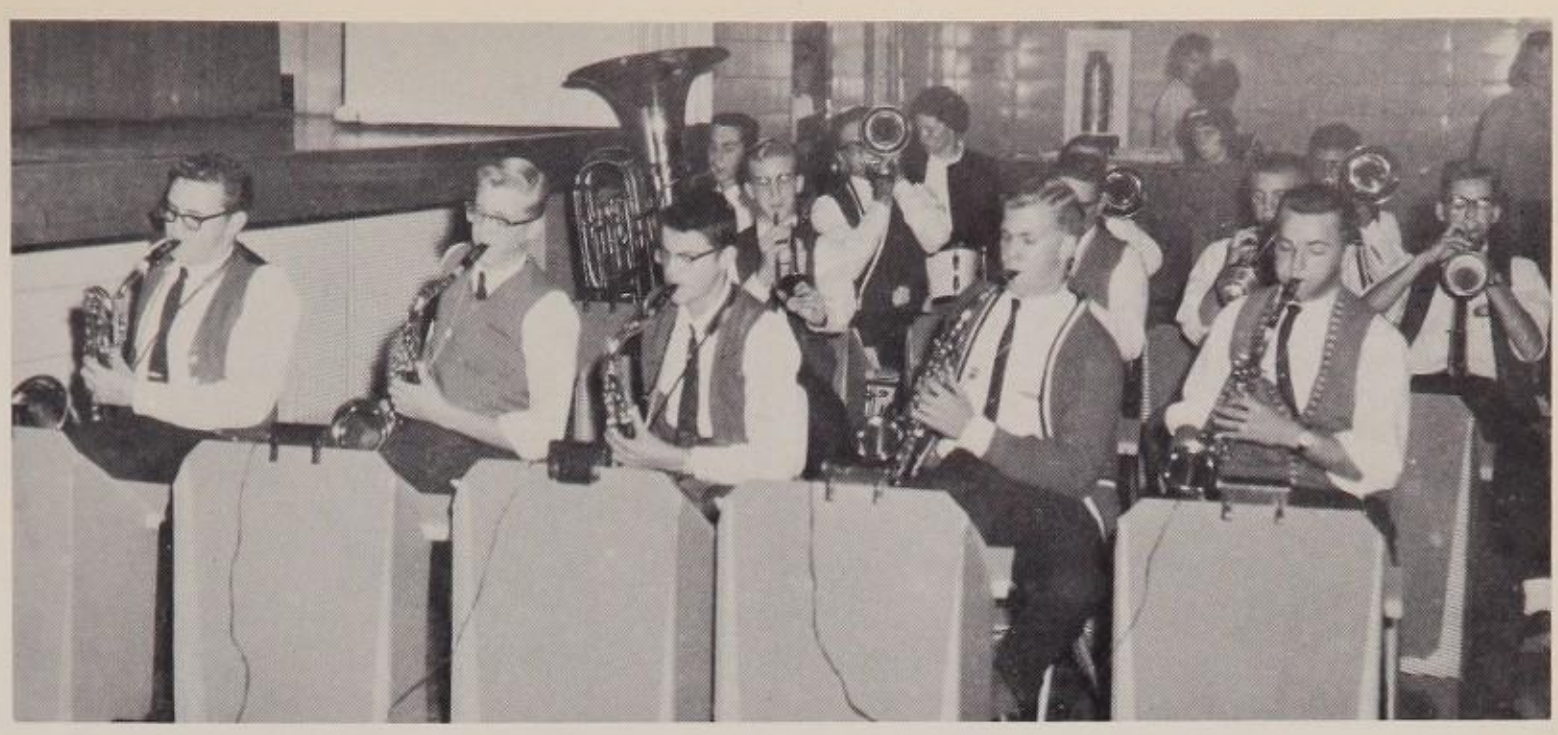
VARSITY BAND, FRONT ROW: Husby, Fisher, S. Nelson, Horton, Mueller, Leirfallom, R. Nelson, Palmer, Donaldson. SECOND ROW: Kappler, Kermes, Kroeger, Strobeck, Dowdall, Kissell, Reich, Powell, Mr. Erickson. THIRD ROW: P. Strom, Dynan, LaBarre, Moore, Sharpe, Whitinger Gaertner, Engholm, Britton. FOURTH ROW: D. Johnson, Rosengren, Winkelman, Tracy, Deal, S. Johnson, Holberg, Friberg. FIFTH ROW: Kuehl, Chapman, Murray, Gannon, D. Hansen, Danielson, Mounce, Hainlen, Christofferson. SIXTH ROW: Londin, Criswell, Collings, Nimbos, Paine, Medcraft, Branes, Levitz. BACK ROW: B. Johnson, Martin, Helbig, Brown.

MUSIC FOR PEP

The newly organized pep band plays for the first basketball game of the season.

The Varsity Band, clad in blue jackets and grey slacks, looks just like the Concert Band and participates basically in the same activities. At the end of the year, after many hours of hard work, Mr. Erickson, in almost all cases, will see this year's Varsity Band as next year's Concert Band.

Whether it be Beethoven's Fifth or the Unfinished Symphony, Ramsey's orchestra does a finished job in its presentation. Members of the woodwind, brass, and percussion sections of the concert band join in for variety. The orchestra, under the direction of Mr. James Peterson, added color to the Christmas and Spring Concerts, but glowed at the District Music Contest where they received an "A" rating.



Providing entertainment for homecoming coronation is Ramsey's own dance band.

AND ENJOYMENT

STIMULATING

The majorettes lead the band around the track.

"My top hat is way too big!" This is the only complaint you will hear from Cathy Olson and the seven other majoretts. Meeting about three times a week, they worked out new routines and twirls to add to the color of our halftime "waits".

"No, no! I think we should lunge to the left and then clap . . ." on Ramsey . . . . go-go-go . . . Who holds eight of the most sought-after positions in Ramsey — the cheerleaders! The girls spend every fifth period in the gym discovering new ways to fester pep and they come up with either new cheers; or new routines for old cheers. Miss Brown's coaching and the hours spent practicing again turned out eight girls who cheer and respond like one person.

CO-ORDINATION AND

A fight for a jump ball occurs often during basketball season.

The "Frantic Fumblers" are down the court for a goal — but the "Dumpy Dribblers" intercept. G.A.A. provides an outlet for relaxation during our intellectual activities at Ramsey, while teaching us physical coordination. The great interest in this organization is shown by the fact that 215 juniors and seniors, and 223 sophomores participate each week. By earning 650 points, a G.A.A. girl becomes a letterwinner.

FC ATHLETIC PROWESS

The life of a letterman — frantic and fantastic. Be it on the field, around the track, in the rink, or on the court, the letterwinners get more of a workout than one can imagine. His chance to relax is at a meeting of the Letterman's Club. It's at this time that he can enjoy some of the clubs purchases that range from walkie-talkies to hi-fi equipment.

Because of the increased devotion that the girls have towards G.A.A., letter sweaters are becoming more common. The rumbling that we hear each G.A.A. day billowing from the gym is the sound of at least one hundred of the four hundred and thirty eight G.A.A. girls having fun in competition. After six hundred points worth of entertainment are acquired, the girls become members of the Senior Girl Letter Winners.

"An apple for the teacher" may have gone out of style, but there are other compensations interested F.T.A. members look forward to in teaching. The club stimulates interest in the profession and acquaints students with opportunities and responsibilities of teaching. The club was not only active here at school, but also at the State F.T.A. Convention in Moorhead and at Education Day at the University of Minnesota.

When our three physical education teachers find their duties too many, the "blue and white beauties", better known as gym assistants, take over. Their job is not limited to blowing whistles, but extends to more dangerous situations, such as being at the bottom of a five-row pyramid demonstration.

If Mrs. Veith is ever called from her office, there is always an assistant standing ready. The Future Nurses Club sponsored a car wash and held a tea for all the alumni that had since gone into nursing. In the spring, they will increase their medical knowledge by participating in a nurse's aid course.

The one hundred girls who make up the Ramsey chapter of the F.H.A. have been busier than ever this year. They built a float; "Ram Sibley in Style", held their annual Daddy Date Night, remained awake at their slumber party, and supplied a needy family with a Thanksgiving dinner while they gave toys and clothes to another "adopted family" at Christmas. Special congratulations go to Pat Lustig, who was elected the State Public Relations Chairman for the Minnesota F.H.A. Division.

D.E.O.T. stands for Distributive Office Training Club. During the club meetings, the members heard such lecturers as Miss Elain Peppel, an instructor from the Estelle Compton Modeling School, and Mr. Joseph Rowan, an authority on juvenile delinquency. In April, the club sponsors the Employee-Employer Banquet.

AND SCHOOL

While shelving or checking in books, library assistants find themselves amazed at the trinkets and love notes found between the pages of various books. In addition to their finds, however, working in the library is an opportunity to enjoy music in the listening room and learn about the new and best authors.

This year, our supply store "keepers" were able to sell us still another new item; pocketbooks. There are certain disadvantages to the job, but the store managers meet many new faces and still have time to study during the "slack moments".

Whenever you are sick, it helps to know that someone cares about your welfare! One of the main jobs the attendance office assistants are in charge of is the "why and wherefore" of your absence.

Music was one of the problems that was continually discussed by Bob Boysen, Ron Gray, Bev Haider, Greg Maxwell, and the rest of the Student Council. Not only did they have the question "What is appropriate cafeteria music" to solve, but they also had to decide "How often does a record have to be played before it is too often?" The Council, because it represents the student body's opinion and questions, tries to solve any problem that involves the student population.

The blue-haired angels and red-nosed reindeer which constantly peer at you while walking the halls during Christmas are painstakingly painted by various Y-Teens groups. The Ramsey Y-Teens Council is a group composed of one representative from each sophomore, junior, and senior Y-Teens group. The Council correlates the activities of each separate group and provides the connection between Ramsey and the downtown Y.

Our Canteen Council is like a modern day Robin Hood. It has given sizable donations to Le Dra Mus Art and towards the Minneapolis Symphony lyceum in January. It also plans, organizes, and sponsors dances. The number of representatives per grade is based on "seniority" since seniors have 12, juniors have 10, and sophomores have 8, who are elected by ballots in the fall.

Besides learning the administration of first aid, the Red Cross Club performed a service project by singing to elderly people at Christmas and other times throughout the year. Another main project was the sponsoring of a record dance after a basketball game. The only prerequisite of the club is to enjoy helping people by giving of your time and service.

The attempt at a misty floor wouldn't work.

What would you do if you had to get up at four every morning to milk a cow? This is one of the probing questions that might be asked by the A.F.S. board in determining whether or not you are a qualified candidate worthy of being an exchange student in a foreign country. By sponsoring a costume dance called "Toyland", this years A.F.S. Club raised money to send and receive our exchange students.

AMBASSADORS AT RAMSEY

This year's A.F.S. students Richard Williams and Brigitte Buffevant.

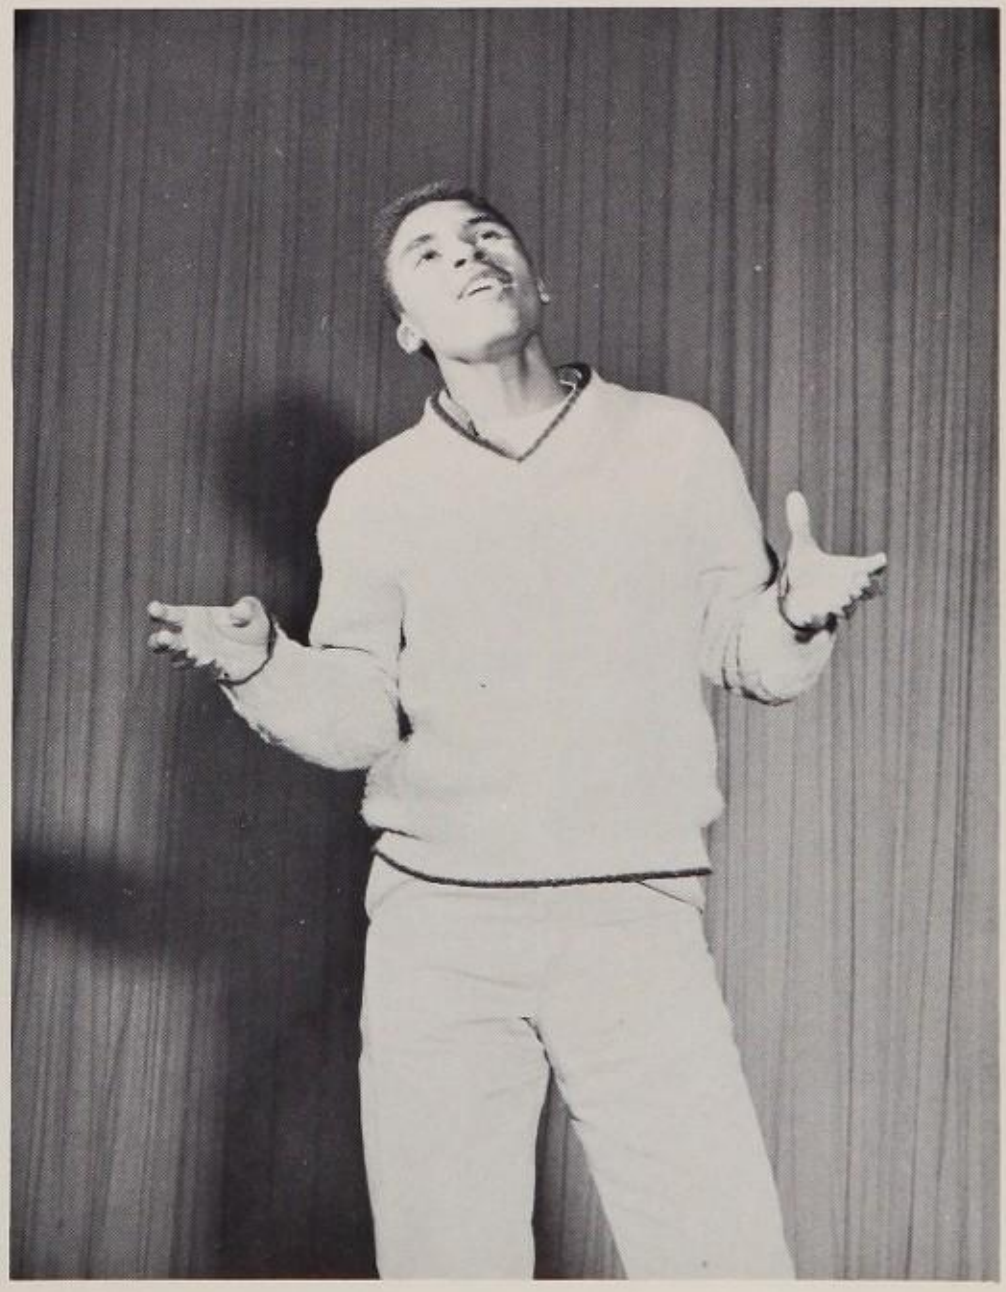
American tourists and toyland residents are spellbound by the entertainment.

Brigitte models her handmade national costume.

The French influence has finally arrived at Ramsey in the form of Brigitte Buffevant, one of this year's foreign exchange students. In her home town of Lyon, which is ideally situated for year-round recreation, Brigitte enjoyed activities ranging from skiing to mountain climbing. While studying at Marie Vidalenc Secondary School in Lyon, she took English and Italian to prepare herself for her dream career as an interpreter. Always cheerful and willing to help, Brigitte has demonstrated her speaking and teaching ability through the many lectures she has given in French to French IV students about her country.

Another student always wearing a smile and a twinkle in his eye is our Panama exchange student, Richard Williams. Ricky's friendly, exciting personality makes him well known to almost every Ramseyite. It took only a few days and he became Vice President of the choir. This peppy Panamanian seems to do everything in Minnesota from singing Spanish Christmas Carols to doing the American Twist. His only problem is keeping warm. Since his arrival last August, Ricky says "I'm still cold."

Ramsey's Belefonte.



In place of the traditional Local Science Fair, held in March, the Junior Academy of Science held a Symposium, where the students read or lectured on their science projects instead of building a display. Meeting the second Tuesday night of every month, the members, discussed current scientific developments and decided to donate the new science showcase that was installed this Spring.

Be it a new hair preparation or a new atomic theory the lab assistants are always busy making discoveries. They are considered, by both teacher and student alike, invaluable to the science classes. Duties vary from making "sweet-smelling" chemicals to teaching classes about their many new discoveries.

NATURAL RESOURCES

The lure of the crisp clean air and snow-covered peaks is enough to capture the enthusiasm of members in Ramsey's ski club. The beginning student, who doesn't know a snowplow from a stem christie, finds skiing rigorous but exciting. Advisor Jeff Lindzey joins with others of our experienced members to form a team that competes with Minneapolis schools.

New members of the Projectionists Club learn how to operate and care for all of Ramsey's audio-visual equipment before they become graduate workers. Each projectionist spends part of his school week assisting teachers who wish to educate and entertain us with a record, film, tape, or filmstrip.

Operating behind the door of the new dark room which held a sign reading "Dark Room (very dark)" were Ramsey's photographers. All year they were busy enlarging, retouching, or developing the many pictures they were called upon to organize and flash.

In order to be a superior debater, the student must have two constant companions; a receipe box and a pocket-sized dictionary. He must also be emotionally strong enough to accept his existence as a permanent fixture of Ramsey's library. Members of Ramsey's Debate Team must also have patience, stamena, go-getioness and the ability to make numerous sacrifices. The debaters, sacrificing their spare time, spent every free weekday hour and weekend finding further information on their topic; "Resolved: The U.S. should promote the common market for the Western hemisphere", but there were rewards! Receiving such prizes as a first place at the St. Cloud Invitational makes up for all the hard work.

Do you recognize the names Philhofer, Manford, and Fennell: It's the aim of Le dra mus art to "painlessly" introduce the students to these names and the arts that they represent. Mrs. Stone, with her Nine Muses as officers, have led the club through what everyone considers a fast-moving and successful year of literature, drama, music, and art.

Crashing the time barrier to meet continual deadlines is the biggest concern of the BIGHORN staff. Some of the major crises the staff is confronted by are complaints of misspelled names or complaints of misquoting. One of the most unique features of newspaper writing is that each sentence must be packed with meaning, but not essential to the paragraph, so that it may be omitted if necessary.

No sooner does the staff complete one issue and settle down to a warm glow of self-satisfaction than they are up and running to prepare the next publication. Although it is a frustrating job, every member feels it is "a worthwhile Service and is proud to be involved."

Between the covers of SCOPE can be found a vast variety of articles, anything and everything from "Alex's Fables" or "Ellis in Wonderland" to a story on religious freedom. SCOPE boasts that it is the only literary magazine in the Twin Cities published quarterly. It encourages budding artists and writers to submit their masterpieces to the board of critics for revision, rejection, or acceptance. Other important tasks of the staff are typing, illustrating, making lay-outs, and selling the finished product. During the past five years of SCOPE's existence, a literary standard has been established and always met.

The members of the RAMBLER business staff are always glad to see empty popcorn boxes and carmel apple wrappers for they represent more money donated to the yearbook fund. This year, partially because of Ramsey's increased population, the staff had to raise the price of our yearbook fifty cents. This meant more pages and the opportunity to try out new techniques. The business staff provides for the production of the yearbook by taking orders for the RAMBLER, collecting the money, delivering the finished product, selling plastic covers, and by selling at the games.

Marilyn Koering and Barb Haskell, co-managers of the RAMBLER business staff, pause during a rush of errands.

Messenger of memories

"Keep adding more words. We have to have more copy."

"I don't believe it!"

Senior heads are cut down to size.

The students jumping up and down screaming "The deadlines been changed!" are probably members of the RAMBLER editorial staff. The job of constructing a yearbook is much harder than it appears to be. The pictures have to be planned, scheduled, developed, and enlarged. Layouts have to be drawn-up and checked while the copy has to be written, checked, lengthened, shortened, and typed up. This is known as the production phase in yearbook construction. There is also the photographer's and publisher's problems. Last summer, Colleen, JoAnne, and the editorial advisor, Mr. McAfee, decided to try something new. The yearbook staff met every Tuesday night throughout the summer to learn the techniques in order to get an earlier start when school began.

NATIONAL SOCIETIES PROVIDE HONOR

"Mountains culminate in peaks and nations in men," quoted Lois Verbrugge as she ended her speech during the annual induction ceremony of the National Honor Society. The primary purpose of this organization is to encourage and honor students excellence in leadership, scholarship, service and character. Commemorating the tenth anniversary of our school, NHS held a reunion tea in December for all past members (providing the opportunity to renew acquaintances and visit with past teachers.) An activity of a different vein enjoyed by the student body was the NHS sponsored movie. "The Man Who Came to Dinner," the proceeds of which went to AFS.

The National Thespian Society provides recognition for students active in dramatics. Their activities for this year consisted of the making of a scarpbook of dramatic events at Ramsey and attending a play at the new Tyrone Guthrie Theater. The present officers are Andy Schmookler, President; Dick Cooter, Vice President; and Diann Morris, Executive Secretary-Treasurer.

JUNIORS

Time — the one commodity that would solve a junior's worries. He is no longer concerned with the confusion depicting his previous year. Now the only thing the junior needs is enough time to do all the things he thinks he has learned. After one year of sophomore life, he thinks he knows everything, but two weeks after being a junior, he finds he knows almost nothing.

The obstacles that try the memory of this weary person are no longer locker combination and class location. The hurdles become more intense: valance of zinc +2 or —3, Declaration of Independence, 1776 and Civil War 1861 . . . . . Somehow the junior charges ahead academically and socially with energy and drive to keep Ramsey on the move. He continues to try his new words and ideas. It is a confident junior that gives the world his warning, "Just wait till we're seniors."

SOPHOMORES

Help! — the inevitable cry of the sophomore class when its members first became entangled in the red tape and constant confusion of high school life. It was a world of new people, new ideas, and new atmosphere that the sophomore approached with a feeling of apprehension. That first day, when the bus rolled up to the traditional blue door, junior high seemed to fade into just a memory. Somehow, though, the sophomore lived through the trials of that first week and found he had jumped the major obstacles that tried his memory: hall locker 513 and gym locker 315, second hour class and first hour teacher, A-wing or D-wing, print or write, first name last or last name first, fiction on the South wall and reference on the West . . . It may have seemed to them that there was some sort of conspiracy against the whole sophomore class. Yet, no one gave up. Why? They soon learned to live with the confusion and after a few weeks you even heard a sophomore say, "I'm beginning to like it here."

HARRIERS SECOND IN REGION

Tom Gale finishes ninth in the State Meet.

Through much hard work captain Tom Gale and the Harriers were able to overcome many difficulties to keep alive another of Ramsey's fine athletic traditions. In their first meet, the Rams traveled to Duluth where they became co-winners of the Swain Invitational. The Conference Meet proved to be a pushover as three Ramsey runners, Tom Gale, Hank Cram, and Bob Hughes, took the first three places. In helping to win Ramsey's eighth consecutive Conference title, Tom Gale set a new Meet record with 9:01.

At Highland Park the cross country boys walked off with the District 14 title, despite the loss of Tom Gale due to an injury. Cram came in first with 9:53, and Hughes placed third with 9:58. Later in the season, the Harriers competed in the Region 4 Meet. Ramsey finished a strong second, unable to overcome the 20 point edge accumulated by first place Osseo's outstanding team. In closing the best cross country season in Ramsey's history, Tom Gale placed ninth in the State Meet out of a field of 135 boys.

(Top) Hank Cram leads the pack at Highland. (Bottom) Bob Arbore strives for the lead against seemingly tireless competition.

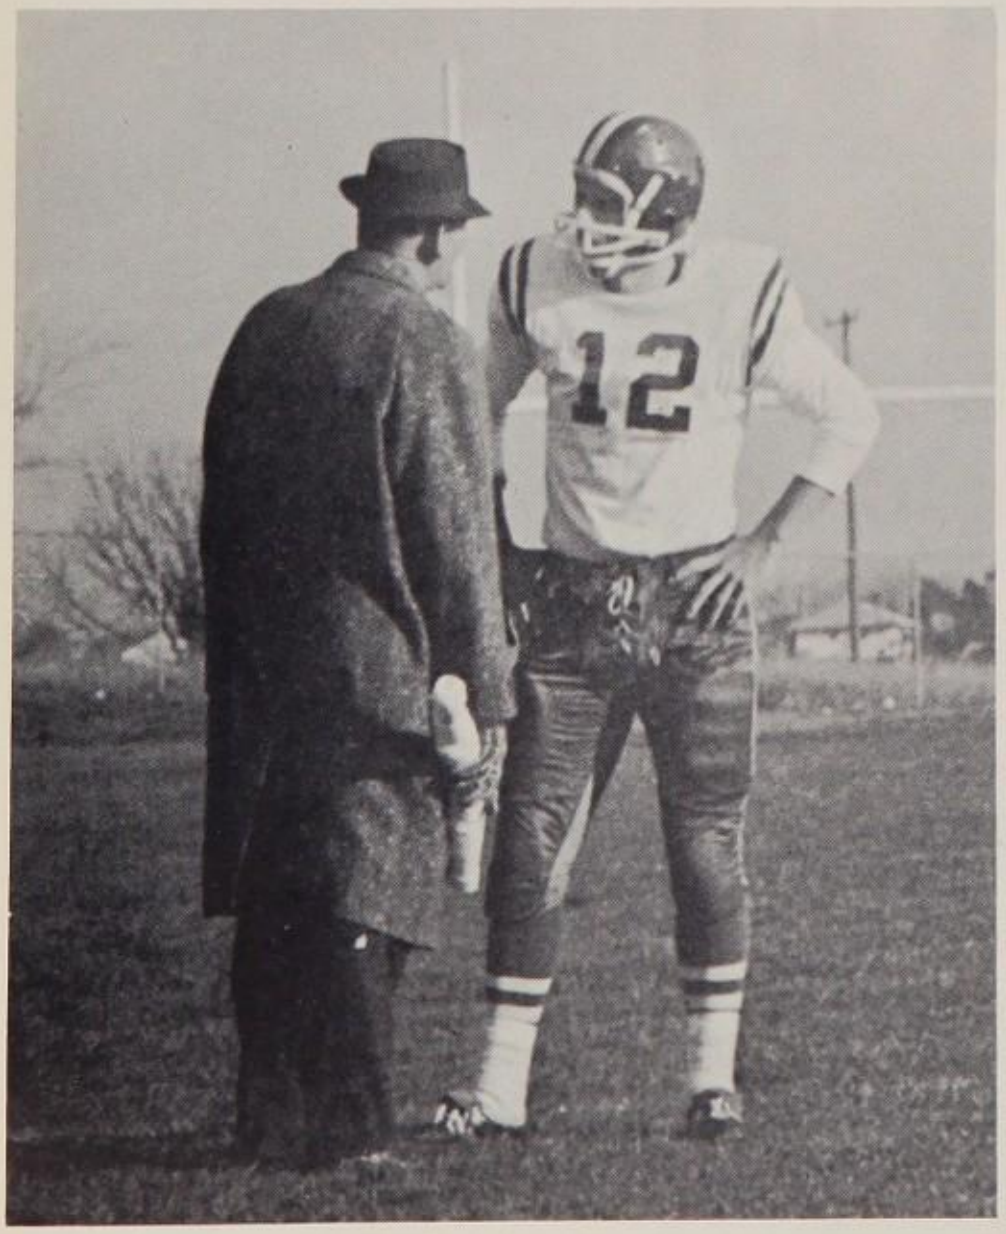
FIELD GOAL MARKS OPENER

All-Conference quarterback Bob Boysen confers with coach Overskei.



Ramsey, again rated a pre-season darkhorse in the Suburban conference, was in contention for the championship until late in the season. After squeezing by South St. Paul on a 25-yard field goal by Bob Boysen in the season opener, the gridders dumped Stillwater and White Bear. Outplayed by Columbia Heights in their fourth game, the team rebounded by defeating West St. Paul and Hastings. Anoka, rated second in the state, overpowered Ramsey to capture the Conference title. The Rams completed a fine (7-2) season by overwhelming both Mounds View and Murray.

Head Coach Lars Overskei, with capable assistance from End Coach Milo Gaul, and Line Coach Duane Skie, molded Ramsey's second most successful team. Coach Overskei attributed this success to good leadership by the players, good self-discipline, an unselfish attitude, and the desire to play good football and win. At the completion of the season, tri-captains Bob Boysen, Rudy Jensen, and Tim Young, were honored with berths on the All-Conference team. Honorable mentions were given to Brick Anderson, Doug Gordh, Don Klohn, Butch Parsons, Jack Peterson, and Jack Thoemke.

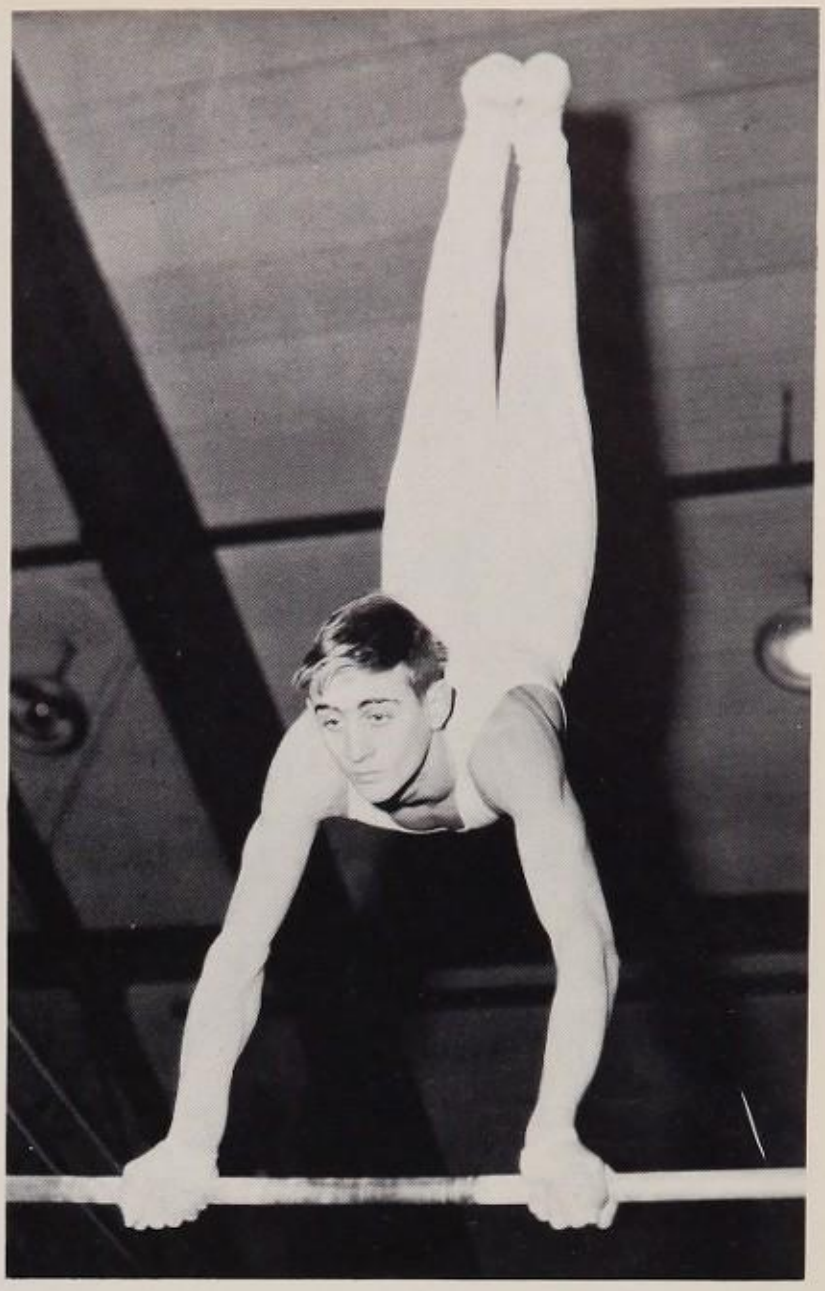
Ramsey's gymnasts capped a flawless season by capturing the State gymnastics title. Undefeated in eight dual and triangular meets, Ramsey made impressive showings in both the Northwest Invitational and the Mankato Invitation. Although team totals were not counted in the Northwest Invitation, Ramsey received more total points than any other team, having placed third in class A and second in class B. The team then won the Mankato Invitational with second place in the "A open" competition and first place in class C.

For the fourth consecutive year, Ramsey ran away with the Region IV championship, this time with the most total team points ever scored in the history of the meet. All three classes were won by Coach Goedeke's gymnasts, giving them the meet 214 points to second place Harding's 39, enabling 28 boys to represent the team in the State Meet.

While ending Minneapolis' twelve year domination of the State gymnastics Meet, Ramsey took second place in class A, and first place in both classes B and C. High point winners for Ramsey were, in class A: Gaillard-first, free exercise; Pohling-second, trampoline; Captain Gray-second, high bar. Class B: Weatherston-first, high bar; Holmberg-third, horse; St. Sauver-first, tumbling; Johnson-first, trampoline. Class C: Hamm-second, high bar; Hipkins-fourth, parallel bars; Berqual-first, tumbling; Folkenson-second, horse.



Captain Ron Gray shows how he won a second place State medal on the high bar.

SWIMMERS TAKE SECOND

Co-captain Gregg Nelson receives consolation from Dick Edblom.

Co-captains Gregg Nelson and Jerry Simmer led the swimming team in a very successful season. The Mermen established an eleven and two record, losing twice to Stillwater's powerful team. Despite the swimmers' great desire, a lack of depth prevented them from winning the Conference title. Competition was keen enough to capture important first places against Stillwater, but the team lacked the reserve strength necessary to carry the deciding second and third places.

Aside from the conference action, the Tankers placed second in the ten team YMCA Invitational Meet, and nineteenth out of fifty-five entries in the State Meet. Winning medals in the Suburban Meet were: Geoff Rehnwall in the 400 yard freestyle; Jerry Simmer in the 40 yard and the 100 yard freestyles; and Morgan Bailey, Jerry Norman, Geoff Rehnwall, and Bill Sievers in the 160 yard freestyle relay. To finish the season, Rehnwall won sixth place in the 50 yard freestyle in the State Meet.

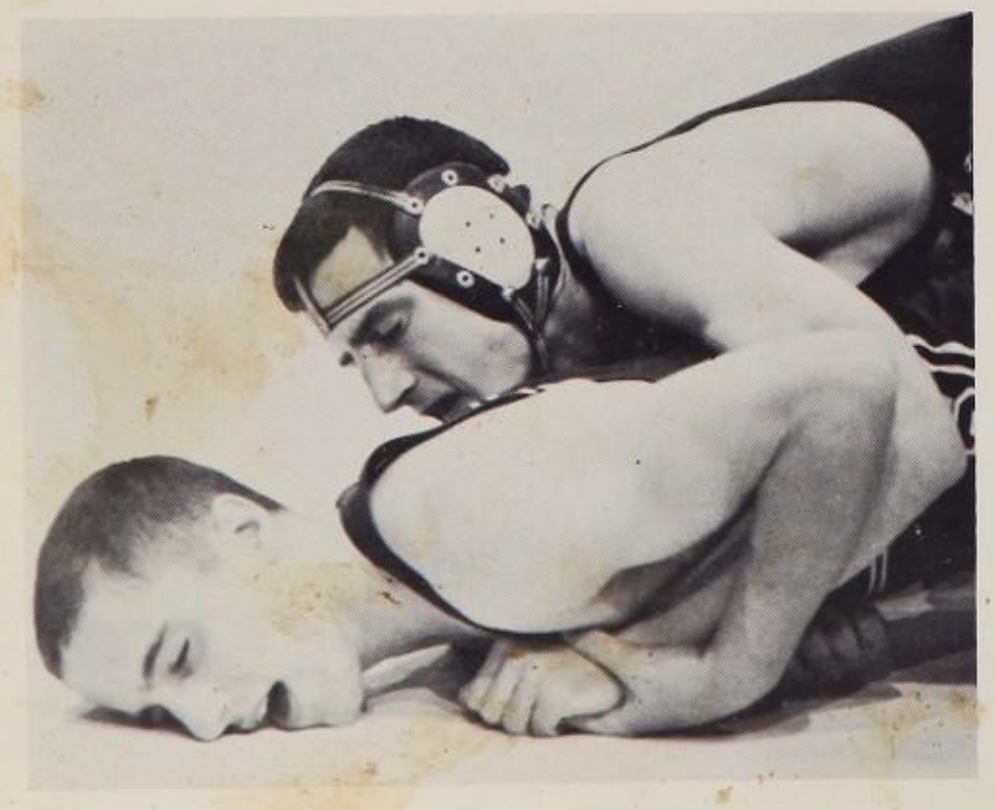
HARD WORK MARKS

Dick Potter rides his South St. Paul Packer.



Sparked by veteran grapplers Hank Cram, Bruce Innes, Dick LeFebvre, Butch Parsons and Dick Potter, Coach Bergstedt's wrestling team established a highly reputable 11 and 2 record. After beginning the season with victories over Wayzata, Minnetonka, Stillwater, White Bear, and Mounds View, the Rams received a setback by Anoka's top-ranking team. The Matmen captured the River Falls Teachers College Invitational with Hank Cram and Bruce Innes leading the team. A loss to Hastings did nothing to dampen the Rams' enthusiasm, and by blanking Sibley in the final conference match they entered the District Tournament on a high note.

Having recovered sufficiently from the many injuries incurred during the season, the team placed fourth in the District. Hank Cram and Bruce Innes each took second places in the Meet, with Butch Parsons, John Labalestra, and Jim Tanniehill receiving fourth spots, Assisting Ramsey finish fourteenth in the Region were Cram, with his State-qualifying third place, and Parsons with a fourth. Team captain Hank Cram then culminated a fine 26-3-1 personal record by winning a third place medal in the State Meet.

NETMEN CAPTURE DISTRICT

A jump shot by Mark Walton is good for two points.

Beginning the season with no returning lettermen, Coach Odanovich was able to mold the basketball team into a successful machine. Starting with a narrow defeat to Minneapolis West, the Cagers paced their early opponents, and then made a decisive victory over Anoka. After loosing three straight games, the Rams rebounded to avenge an earlier defeat at the hands of White Bear. Once the proper combination was found, the squad gathered strength and finished the season on a strong note. This surge continued into the District Tournament play.

In the first game, Rosemount found itself unequal to the sharp shooting Rams. Sibley and Columbia Heights put up tremendous battles, but Ramsey's determined team was able to edge them both by a single point. Even with its tough defense, Stillwater could not eliminate the surging Rams from the Tournament race. Memories of a beating earlier in the season gave the Cagers enough power to soundly whip the conference champions, North St. Paul, for the District 14 title.

Anoka, with its sights on the State Tournament, came up with unusual strength to defeat the Rams in the opening game of the Region. Despite the efforts of the team's leading scorer, All-Conference Jerry Sigstad, honorable mention Eric Steneroden, and the top underclassmen, the tired Rams lost the final game to LeCenter.

In his first year at Ramsey, hockey coach Gordy Genz fashioned a championship squad. The team fell into order after their loss to North St. Paul. With renewed enthusiasm, the Pucksters beat South St. Paul for the first time in Ramsey's history. After warming up on Brooklyn Center, Ramsey rolled past Anoka to enter Region II play.

The Rams dropped South St. Paul again, and in a fine game against White Bear captured the Region title to gain their first State Tournament berth. International Falls was shocked by Ramsey's furious onslaught, but won the heartbreaking game in overtime. With steam left over from the best-played game of the season, the team put down Warroad and Richfield to win the State Consolation championship.

Excellent sportsmanship and a deep respect for their coach characterized the Rams' drive into the State. Along the way, Anderson, Boysen, and Jaderston were selected for the All-Conference teams, and honorable mentions were given to Elmquist, Olein, and Thoemke. Finally, as a result of their great efforts in the Tournament, Anderson and Boysen were chosen to represent Ramsey on the All-State hockey team.

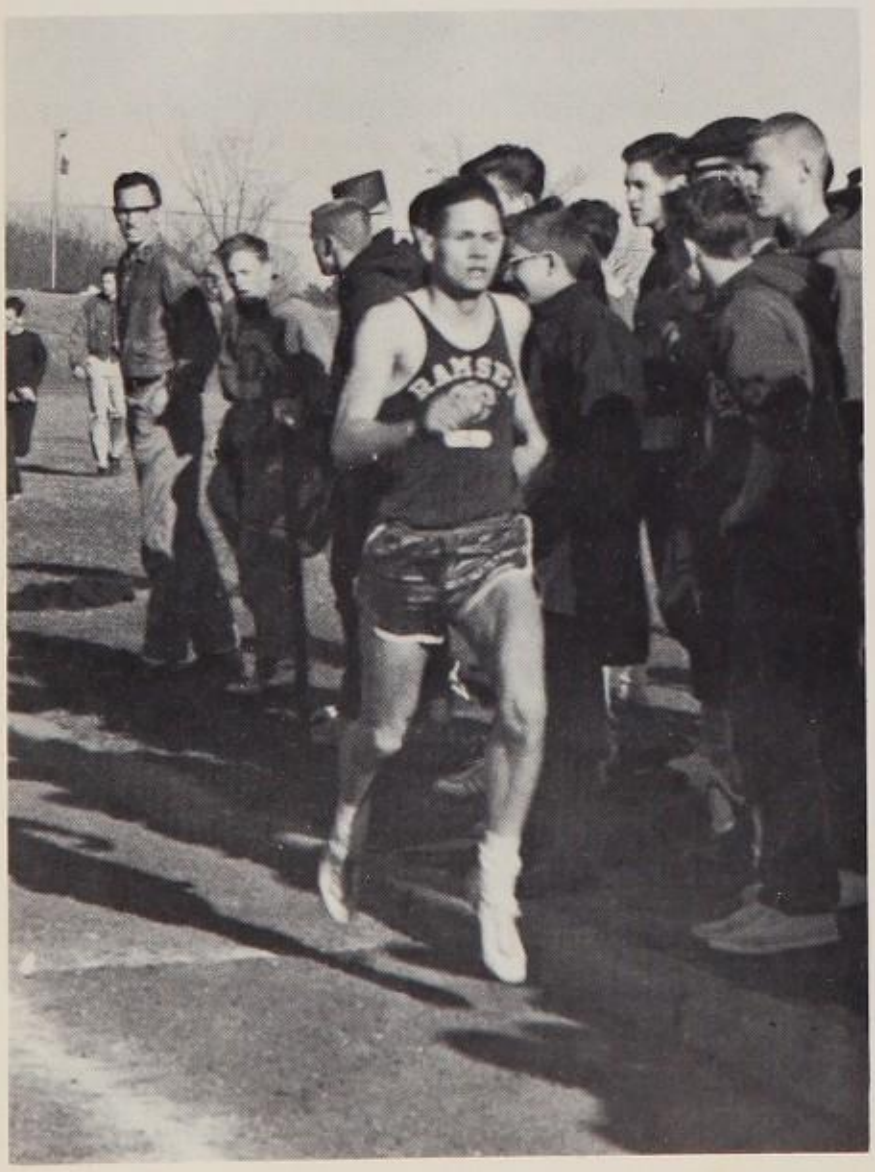
CINDERMEN CAPTURE REGION

Another record falls as Swanson completes the 880.



Coach Molitor's Cindermen smashed many records last year in what was one of the team's most successful seasons. Great enthusiasm was shown early in the spring as they cleared the snow from the entire track. Hard work paid off, and in the State Indoor Meet Ramsey placed third. Setting a new State record in the mile relay at this event were John Ferlaak, Gary Stone, Jeff Swanson, and Kurt Wilbrecht.

As the year progressed records continued to fall. Ramsey won the St. John's Invitational Meet with both Jeff Swanson in the 440, and the mile relay team, setting records. Later the team made excellent showings at the Bloomington Trackerama and the Robbinsdale Invitational, in which numerous records fell as they placed first.

Having captured the Suburban Conference title, the trackmen went on to win the District 14 meet as they set records in the 880, the mile relay, and the half-mile relay. The team continued to receive honors as they won the Region 4 tournament, and then finished their more than successful season in the State Outdoor Meet as Jeff Swanson placed first in the 880, Kurt Wilbrecht placed fourth in the 440, and the mile relay team placed third.

Captain Art Skon and Coach King ponder future golf matches.

Paced by captain Art Skon, a well balanced squad of six lettermen gained a seven win, one loss record to share the conference championship with North St. Paul. With wins over each of their opponents except tough contender North St. Paul, the team had an apparently easy season. The Linksmen took second place in the District Tournament as three Ramsey golfers won berths in the Regional Tournament. Art Skon, Malcom MacGregor, and Barney Hall competed in the event, from which Art Skon advanced to a fifth place finish in the State Tournament.

Despite cold and damp weather, Coach Carlin's Sackers began the season with wins over North St. Paul, the 1961 State baseball champs, and St. Paul Central. After losing a close game to South St. Paul, the Rams came back to defeat Murray and Stillwater. White Bear edged Ramsey, but captain Norm Coppersmith was able to rally his team to decisive victories over Fridley and Columbia Heights. The Rams were dropped from the Conference race by Hastings and the superior hitting and pitching of West St. Paul, although they finished the season with wins over Anoka and Mounds View. In the District playoffs, Ramsey succeeded in trouncing Stillwater, Mahtomedi, and North St. Paul, before again falling to the big guns of District champions West St. Paul.

Pitching was Ramsey's strongest area with Gary Cargill and Jack Peterson, who produced the best won-lost records, sharing much of the burden. An adequate infield, and Rick Anderson's highly reputable batting average of .417, helped make up for the team's weaknesses.

NETMEN SWEEP DISTRICT

The Ramsey netmen, lead by captain Dick Blomquist, finished the season with their first conference championship under Coach Nelson. They started the season with the idea of breaking the five year jinx that included four straight second places and one third place finish. Helping to break this streak were the two singles players Bill Arland and Dave Voss. The two doubles teams had great depth with Charles Brown, Roger Kingsley, Bruce Martin, Jim Peterson, John Strom, and Dick Sundberg battling for positions.

Nelson's squad also set a school record for conference and non-conference action with 14 wins and only 1 setback, the loss coming from the hands of Anoka's young, spirited team.

Tennis action is usually confined to conference play, but this season a District tournament was set up. Ramsey did very well in this contest by beating South St. Paul, White Bear, Sibley, and Stillwater to win the District team championship.

Sundberg and Strom proved to be an effective combination.

IMPRESSIONS

Life is complicated, but student life is overwhelming. To the average adult population, sophomore through senior years are what are laughingly referred to as "those carefree years." On the contrary, high school life should be known as "those care-full years." From that first day as a sophomore to the last day as a senior, our days are full of care, but we also take care to see that our lives are full.

Our student life is eighteen hundred personalities moving in eighteen hundred different directions for reasons that are just as many. But no matter how varied the activity or changeable the personality, there are always forces that seem to unite us. In essence our lives are ones bursting with hope, sensitivity, competition, excitement, anticipation, importance, and above all, satisfaction.

Homecoming — a week of excited bustle for Ramseyites and a single day of memories and honor for alumni. Homecoming 1962 — an altogether wonderful climax to autumn. For a month, nine committees worked silently. On September 26, action began as the five queen candidates were announced: Kathy Jacobson, Lesley Lundbohm, Sue Svidal, Sandy Vars, and Pat Whitney. Immediately, campaign chairmen were chosen; Wednesday night the first of almost continuous campaign meetings was held. There was never enough paper, pop, or paste. But somehow, by Monday morning the posters were done. Head to toe, the halls were plastered with green giants, carved logs, photos, and persuasive slogans. Midnight oil burned for two more nights as committees wrote, rehearsed, rewrote, and re-rehearsed their skits. The five productions were presented Wednesday morning. Tired committee members went home to sleep and do week-old homework. Thursday, Queen Kathy was crowned. Though Friday's sky was drizzly, no one noticed it as the parade came around the stadium. A sea of balloons began the game with Sibley. Of course, we wamped 'um 19 to 13! Homecoming festivities ended with the fall-hued "Indian Summer" dance. We will never forget Wamp Um "Double, double, toil and trouble" and "It . . . it's wonderful!"

A FRANTIC, FESTIVE WEEK

QUEEN KATHY AND HER COURT

Though only one could be Homecoming Queen, all five candidates were treated as queens for one and a half wonderful, harried weeks. Posters, skits, formals, coronation ceremony rehearsals, and briefing meetings were all on the regal agenda. Coronation day came quickly and, at the appointed hour, spotlights and excited anticipation rose. Each candidate was introduced as "glamorous", "lovely", "ravishing", or "pretty" — there was no doubt about that! Cathy Carpender, Homecoming Queen 1961, walked oh-so-slowly behind the girls and then crowned "enchanting" Kathy. All too soon Homecoming Day arrived. During the parade, Kathy and her attendants rode a magnificent gold and white float. Kathy traditionally presented the football to the team co-captains. Not even the royalty could sit still as the Rams won the game!

Anne Frank's account of her life and the lives of the other seven people hiding from the Nazis during the occupation of Holland was vividly portrayed in this year's Junior Class Play. The competition between Mrs. Bone's and Mrs. Stone's classes in ticket sales was bloody in a true prehistoric fashion, but the resulting overflow crowds were a pleasant reward. "Anne Frank" was undoubtedly one of the most moving plays that Ramsey has presented and certain moments still remain vivid. How can we forget Anne's (Sara Ramras) scream, Mr. Frank's (Dick Cooter) crying in the opening scene, Mr. Van Daan's (Jean Tretter) enthusiasm over the cake, Mrs. Frank's (Lois Verbrugge) hysteria over the stolen bread, Peter's (Andy Schmookler) bashful kiss, Mrs. Van Daan's (Dawn Kloskin) "Ah hah," Mr. Kraler's (Bob Weinholzer) telephone conversation with the doctor, Margot's (Joanne Ristau) Calmness, Miep's (Linda Jordan) pillow, or Mr. Dussel's (Jim Seller) striped pajamas. Because of the enthusiasm, fortitude and devotion of Mr. Ellis and all concerned, the play represented one of the highest points in Ramsey's tenth anniversary.

Merry Christmas, Margie!

Snow and skis, bells and glee, mistletoe and Christmas trees all had prominent roles in Ramsey's Christmas. Bells jangled, trees were bedecked with tinsel, and windows were transformed into colorful wise men, angels, and reindeer. Conversation revolved around five seasonal subjects: the lack of snow, what to give whom, what to wear where and with whom, when to get homework done, and how to budget vacation time. The last nights were spent in a flurry of card signing and invitation sending, sandwiched in between homework periods. On the much anticipated last day of school, after choir members had serenaded us with Christmas carols, bedlam broke loose as we burst through the auditorium doors to meet "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

"On Dancer, on Prancer, on Donner and Blitzen" is the usual shout heard from Santa, but this year he made his traditional stop at Ramsey in a twentieth century go-cart. Santa, alias John Elmquist, passed out laugh-filled gifts, then donned his new cry, "On pistons, on spark plugs, on wheels and wires." All this was part of the annual Ramsey Christmas Dance and exemplified the theme, " 'Twas the Night Before Christmas." A Santa Claus and sleigh, complete with eight reindeer and Rudolph and his red blinking nose, were part of the wall decorations. Couples danced happily under a circle of red and green crepe paper suspended from the ceiling.

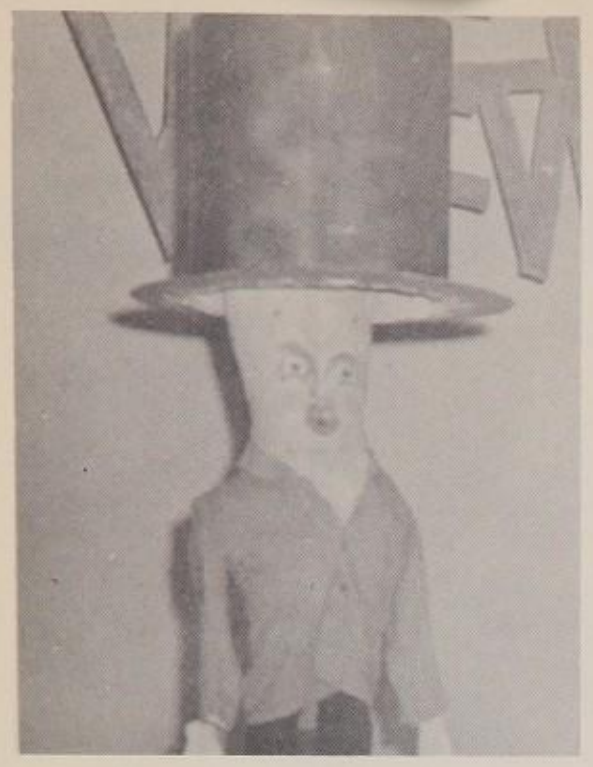
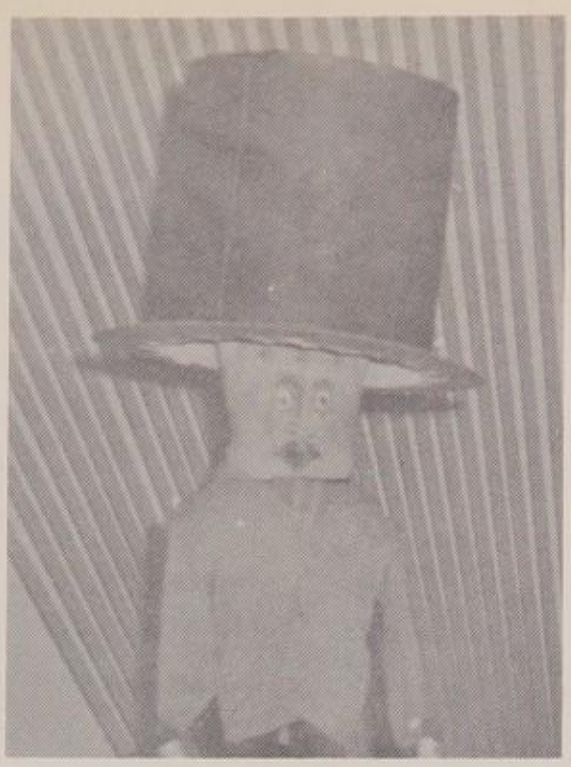
Little green men were there. Where? At the A.F.S. Dance, of course. The theme was "Babes in Toyland" so it's only natural that little green men were around. The Ramsey Dance Band was also there to provide the music. Balloons covered the ceiling but were quickly taken care of in a noisy stomping session. International flavoring was provided by the many A.F.S. students from the Twin Cities area who attended, some in their colorful national costumes. Our own A.F.S. students, Brigitte Buffevant and Rick Williams, helped to introduce the visitors during a short program which also included songs provided by a trio of dolls and Rick.

One group of dolls got together a real rip-roaring
Western.





The Whistlers, Doug Berdie and Jeff Meyers, presented an uproariously funny belly dance.

TWO NEW TRADITIONS

A new tradition has joined Ramsey's long list — the Variety Show is here to stay. Because of the success of "Little Looney", the Charleston Line and the other acts that made up the 1962 Variety Show, it was decided to present the show again this year. Accented by blue and white streamers, everything from whistlers, acrobats, tapdancers, singers, and ducks to an Indian chief, a Scottish dancer, and a Russian Cossack entertained the overflow crowd on January 19. Not only will the Talent Show insure the continuation of our A.F.S. program, but it will annually cultivate the ham in each of us.

"But men don't buy pajamas for pistol-packin' mamas. No, you can't git a man with a gun."

Attendant Nancy Brady, Queen Loni Anderson, and Princess Heather Aitken listen happily as Rick Williams sings "Amapola."

While a large red cupid on the wall smiled as if he were planning to shoot an arrow, couples could find their names written on paper hearts around the room. At the stroke of 10:00 the Valentine Royalty graciously walked up the center of the room as they and their escorts were announced, each candidate nervously wondering if she would make it up the steps.

Sophomores had chosen Jill Aldridge, Nancy Brady, Linda Chapek, Gwen Johnson, and Cathie Pavek. Juniors had selected Heather Aitken, JoAnne Dokken, Bev Haider, Glenda Johnson, and Kristi Svidal. Seniors had elected Loni Anderson, Sue Dreis, Sue Svidal, Sandy Vars, and Pat Whitney.

Anxiety mounted to its climax as each class president paced behind the candidates, contemplating which one to crown. Finally, the flower wreath crowns were joyfully placed on the head of the winners. Gymnastics captain, Ron Gray, presented Queen Loni with the traditional bouquet of roses, and Rick Williams sang the Queen's song.

"ARSENIC

Backstage . . . creative chaos

The cafeteria was jammed as usual for last spring's Senior Class play "Arsenic and Old Lace." The crowd backstage had frantically taken a last look at the lines, nervously adjusted their costumes and dashed about looking for the wine decanter. Finally the curtain rose and Jean Treter began to create his new image as Teddy Roosevelt. "Charge the blockhouse!" has echoed down our halls more than once since the fateful evening when the sweet little old ladies with their poisoned wine walked the boards. The performance finished triumphantly with the twelve "dead bodies" lined up on stage for a curtain call.

Teddy hauls another of his sister's "gentlemen" to the basement.

After hours of decorating, even napkins and tape got complicated.

The building of Rome was utterly exhausting.

MEMORIES OF A

After the mess was cleared away, one could contemplate the beauty of what he'd created.

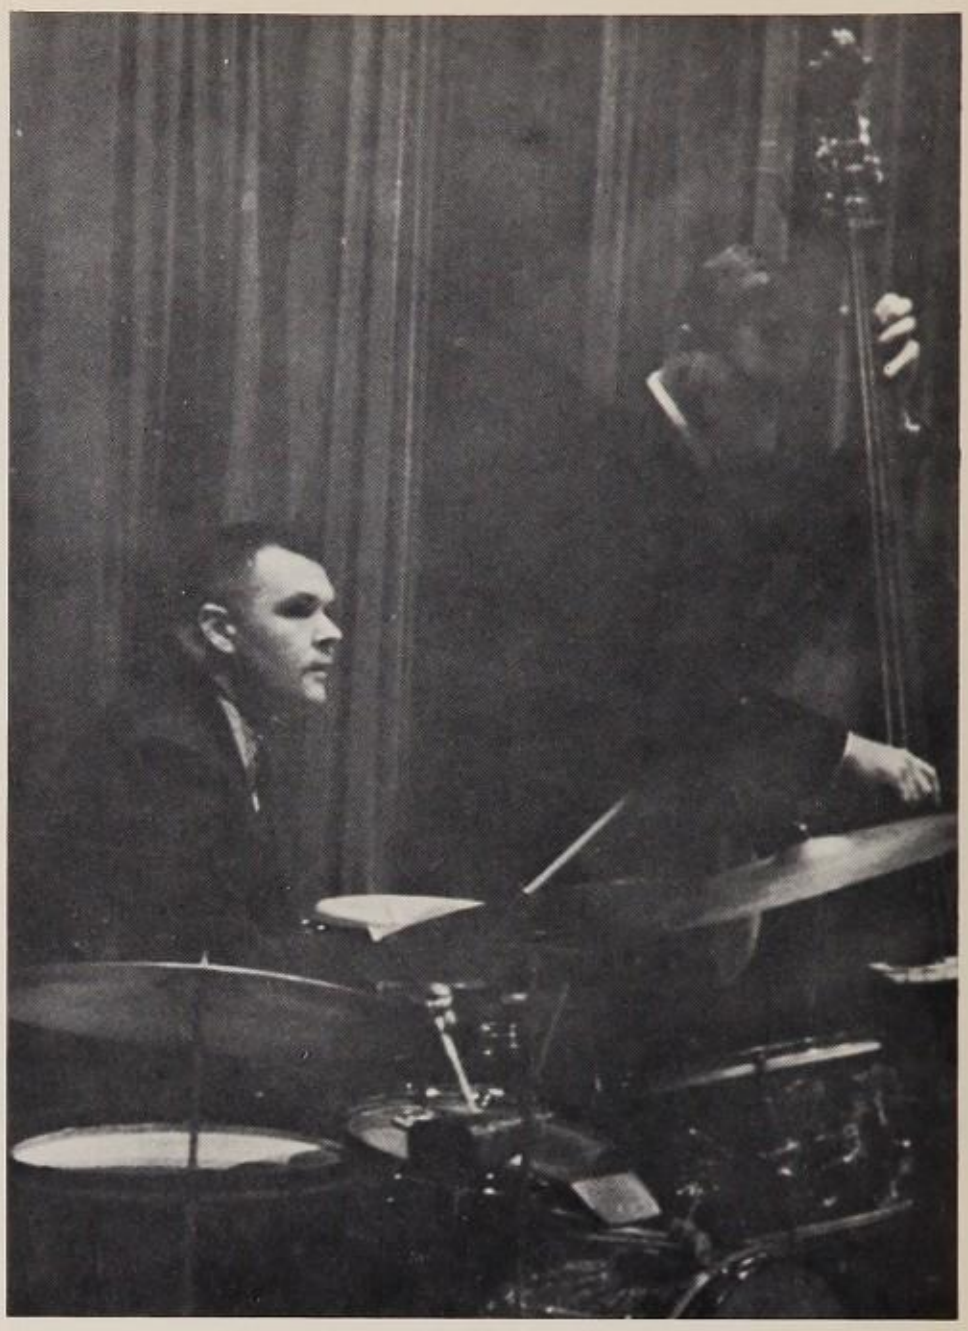
The theme was Spring in Rome and Spring in Rome it was. Corinthian columns, the Roman forum, statues, and arches set the scene; music, a garden, fountain, and flowers set the mood of spring. Formals, and flowers, tux and tails all swished and rustled to the strains of the Dick Kast orchestra. Pennies were thrown into the fountain in hopes for wishes coming true. Pictures taken amid the Roman arches would serve as lasting memories of a very happy and special occasion.

But it was a long hard winter before Spring came. The juniors found that "Rome wasn't built in a day." Weeks of planning and preparation preceded the actual construction. It was worth all the blood, sweat, and tears that went into it; worth all the broken nails, paint-spattered hands, mussed hair, and scratched legs. Hours after the last column was put in place, Spring began. Fortunately, the sophomores cleaned up Rome the day after the gladiators left.

BEAUTIFUL SPRING IN ROME

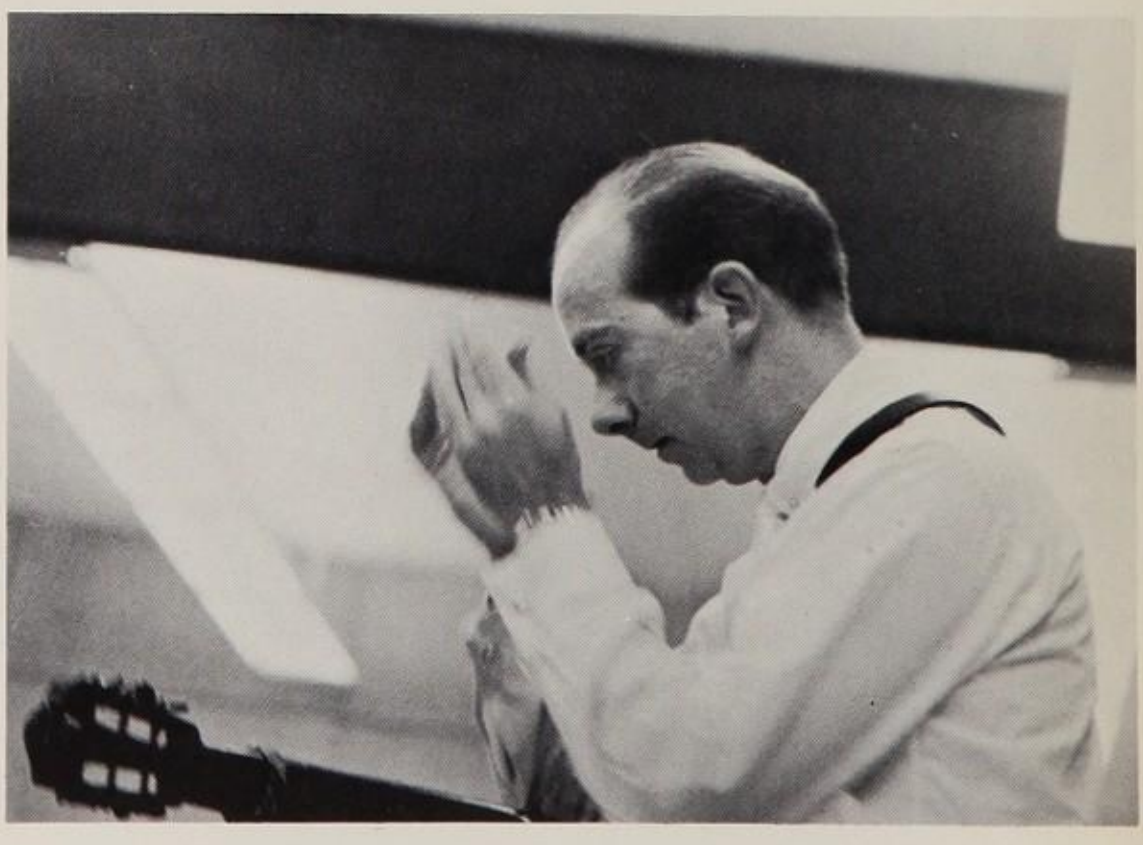
Nearly every Friday a sea of students, waving pink passes and jockeying for front row seats, swamped the band room to hear lectures. These lectures, which covered music, theater, and art were sponsored by le dra mus art. In this way students were introduced to the symphony, jazz, the history of the piano, and folk songs. Speakers expounded on the Guthrie Theater, Walker Art Center, Minneapolis Art Institute, how to write a play, the role of dance in the theater, and sculpture.

Later in the spring, lectures especially for science students, given by visiting scientists, were sponsored by the Jr. Academy of Science and the science teachers.



The intricacies and theories of jazz were explained and demonstrated by the Herb Philoffer Quartet.

Showing the enthusiasm that made students sit on the floor and crowd in doorways are Harolyn Erickson and Diane La Follette.



Lecture goers could hear an authentic guitar-strumming folk singer in the person of Glen Washburn.

LECTURES AND AWARDS

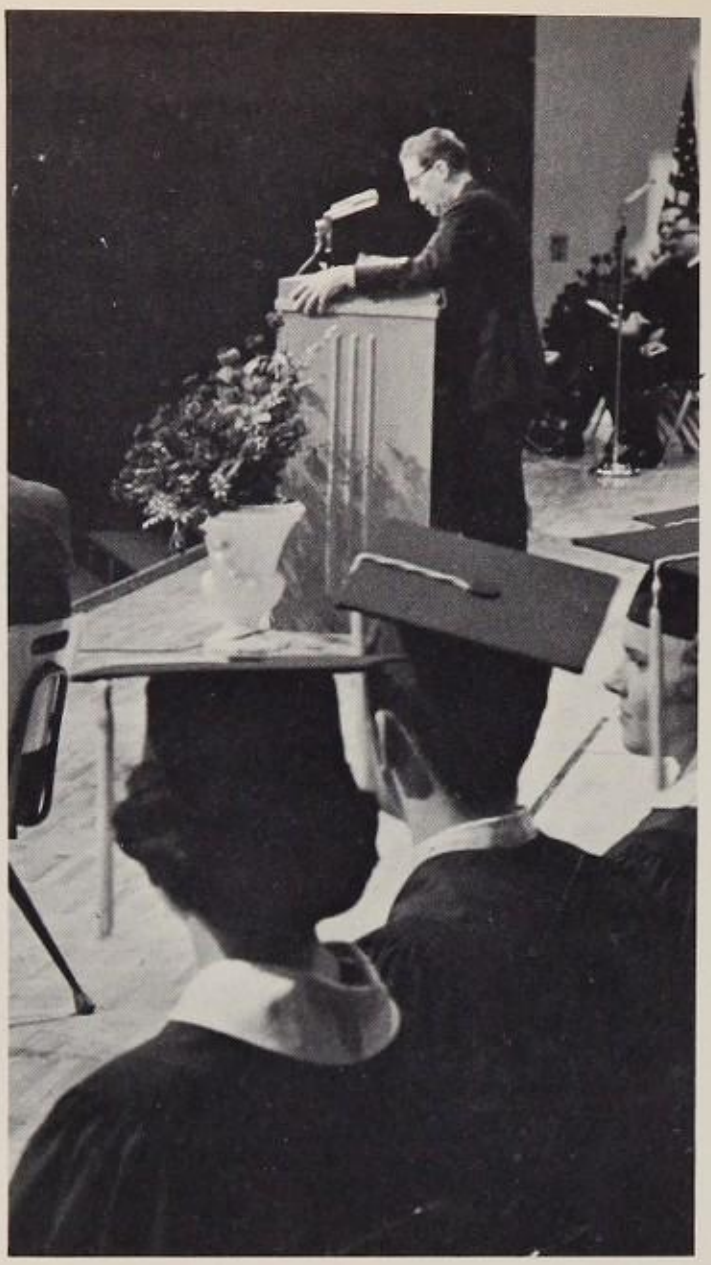
Two of the happiest people in Ramsey last spring were Barb Tschida and Jeff Swanson. Barb, secretary of G.A.A., Girl's State Representative, president of the Pep Club, vice president of the Student Council, and a member of the Honor Society, was voted Outstanding Senior Girl. Jeff, winner of the Alex Award, was active in football, hockey, and track, president of the Letterman's Club, president of the Senior class, and a member of the Honor Society.

At the eighth annual Athletic Banquet, Most Valuable Player Awards were presented to Tom Gale, cross country; Jeff Swanson, football; Bill Arland, swimming; Steve Sigford, wrestling; Gene Andreotti, baseball; Art Skon, golf; Bill Tift, 1961 Alex Award Winner, tennis; and Jeff Swanson, track.

Barb Tschida, Outstanding Senior Girl, and Jeff Swanson, Alex Award Winner.



With the speaker we anticipate the future.

Finished!

We walk toward the beginning of a new life.

AN END AND A BEGINNING

Graduation is a day to look back at memories and a day to look forward to the future. As the long procession of black and white shoes marches to the graduation stage, a feeling of hesitation seems to preside. It is the end of twelve years of achievement and the beginning, for most, of uncertainty. Graduation means the inevitable loss of friends, that close competitive spirit, and even the teachers and classes that mean so much when they're no longer to be had.

This is the day when the preparations of the last three months suddenly become sharp reality and no longer the trivialities that once bothered the future graduate. The announcement orderblanks are now announcements and the robe measurements are now robes. The moment finally arrives, and with diploma in hand, the Ramsey Senior Class claims the title of Graduates 1962.
